

SHOPMEN TO MAKE ONE MORE EFFORT TO INCREASE PAY

COMMITTEE IS ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON TO START NE-GOTIATIONS LEADING TO SETTLEMENT

STRIKE CALLED FOR FEB. 17

Maintenance of Way and Shop Workers Will Lay Down Their Tools Next Tuesday Unless Satisfactory Agreement is Reached

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Leaders of two million railroad workers threatening strike today disagreed on methods of conducting further negotiations with Rail Director Hines.

The union heads were still at work on a communication which they are to lay before Hines and which they say is in the nature of an ultimatum.

W. O. Lee, head of the railroad trainmen, said he would have nothing to do with this ultimatum and he and several other leaders did not attend the meeting today.

The railroad men were to have met Hines at 11 o'clock today to present their communication.
Just before the conference was to open, however, they asked for a postponement.

Lee and other officials refused to divulge the nature of the proposed ultimatum but Lee said:
"I will not sign it."

Detroit—Ten delegates of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way and Railroad Shop Laborers, today were enroute to Washington to make a last effort to untangle the wage puzzle.

"Call for a strike, effective Feb. 17
was made yesterday by Allen E. Barker, grand president.

This committee is vested with full authority, it was said at headquarters here, to enter into negotiations with the railroad administration and accept any just settlement.

It was directed to remain in Washington, subject to the call of Rail Director Hines until the day of the proposed strike.

J. B. Malloy, vice president of the organization will head and direct the committee. Malloy has been in Washington for some time trying to reach a settlement.

President Barker, in a statement issued last night, he sent to the 300,000 workers in the United States cautioned the men not to resort to violence and to "always be law abiding citizens."

Special representatives today were sent to Kansas by the United Brotherhood of maintenance of way and railroad shopmen to investigate the Kansas industrial court law, according to O. C. Trask, assistant grand president.

According to dispatches from Kansas the law will be used to prosecute members of the brotherhood if they strike in Kansas, Feb. 17, in accordance with their plans for a national walkout.

"We don't know just what the situation is in Kansas," Trask said.
"We are sending special representatives and until we hear from them
we can make no definite announcement regarding the strike call there.
The brotherhood stands for law and order. It wants to obey the law."

Prosecute Strikers Topeka, Kans.—Maintenance of the way workers shopped on Kansas railroads who strike in accordance with union orders will be prosecuted, Governor Henry J. Allen announced today.

The Kansas industrial court law,
which provides two years imprisonment and fines up to $5,000 for union officers and men who strike in violation of the statute, will be invoked in case the threatened strike develops, Allen said.

17 NEW FLU CASES ARE REPORTED HERE TODAY

Seventeen additional cases of influenza and pneumonia were reported to Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, city health officer, in the last twenty-four hours. One death, that of Peter Maes, was reported.

Dr. Ellsworth announced the following orders which must be rigidly observed:

"No person dying from influenza or pneumonia can be taken into a church or chapel. All funerals of this nature must be private.

"Children will not be permitted to attend school while there is a case of influenza or pneumonia in the home."

Regular Army Men On Guard To Curb Riots

Martial Law is Declared in Lexington
Where Five Persons Were Killed
In Effort to Lynch Negro Slayer of Girl

By United Press Leased Wire
Lexington, Ky.—United States regulars of the First division, marched the streets of Lexington today to prevent a recurrence of rioting which caused the death of five persons and the wounding of a score yesterday.

Mobs which attacked the courthouse
during the trial of Will Lockett confessed murderer of Geneva Hardman, 10, South Elkhorn school girl, scattered with the arrival of the second detachment of infantry last night.

Soldiers were posted about the courthouse where Lockett is confined pending removal to Frankfort state prison. Soldiers searched every person who appeared in the streets after dark.

The veterans were posted on each of the roads leading to Lexington and entrance to the city was refused.

Lexington is under martial law, governed by 900 soldiers under command of Brig. Gen. Francis C. Marshall.

Major Gen. Charles P. Summerall, commandant of Camp Taylor, Lexington, was to arrive here at noon to take command. State militia troops which clashed with the mob yesterday, have been relieved and will return to their homes today.

General Marshall announced that no effort will be made to remove Lockett from Lexington today.

Although rioters disappeared from the streets last night, it was reported that they were stationed along the Lexington-Frankfort pike to prevent any attempt to remove the negro to the penitentiary.

General Marshall predicted there would be no further trouble in Lexington and said a part of his command might return to Camp Taylor tonight.

Governor Morrow will be asked today to support passage of a law making an attack upon a woman punishable by hanging in the county in which it occurs and making the law applicable to the Lockett case.

U. S. BANKERS TO MAKE FINANCIAL SURVEY OF CHINA

REPRESENTATIVES OF BANKING
GROUP WILL TRY TO SMOOTH OUT DIFFERENCES WITH JAPS

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and Company with Martin Egan as assistant and Jeremiah
Smith of Boston as counsel will leave Thursday for Japan and China to confer with bankers of those countries and make a financial, commercial and political survey of China.

Lamont will represent a consortium of bankers including most of the prominent financial figures in the country. He plans to return to New York about June 1. It is understood the trip will be made with the full approval of the state department.

This consortium adopted certain principles governing its activities several months ago. Among these was that no country shall attempt to cultivate special species of influence. At that time the Japanese government expressed certain reservations regarding portions of Mongolia and Manchuria which prevented a working partnership. Lamont, it is understood will seek to show the Japanese financiers the superfluous character of these reservations and make clear
the actual motives behind the American, British and French banking groups.

The International consortium was formed in Paris in May, 1919 with Lamont presiding. In addition to the principles regarding spheres of influence, the organization decided that to form an effective partnership to aid
the Chinese government in its public enterprises, it would also be necessary to act entirely in concert, but in no way to interfere with any private operations in China.

WITNESSES IN NEWBERRY CASE CROWD THE HOTELS

Interest in Trial of Michigan Senator Centers Around Newberry Campaign Correspondence

By United Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich.—Mobilization of witnesses in the Newberry trial today taxed local hotel and courthouse facilities to the limit.

Every train brought additional reinforcements for the army of witnesses and the government was forced to commandeer more rooms at the courthouse to accommodate those waiting to be called.

Interest in the trial today centered around introduction of Newberry campaign correspondence regarding expenditures.

The correspondence included a telegram from Frederick P. Smith, Newberry estate manager, to Newberry, telling him of a campaign expense,
which marked the first piece of evidence brought forth by the government to connect Newberry directly with the financial conduct of his campaign.

Claude Hamilton, vice president of the Michigan Trust Company, testified that he received a check for $330
signed by Newberry for the Kent County Republican committee, after Newberry had notified him that no further expenditures were possible.
The money was to defray expenses incurred in the promotion of the "Gold Star Club."

"Bloodless Revolt To Bring Down H. C. O. L. Has Arrived

"Middle Class Union" is Organized in New York for Purpose of Helping Little Fellow

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The "bloodless revolution" has arrived.

The long suffering "bourgeoisie"
has revolted and is organizing itself into the "middle class union of New York" to right affairs by representing "the real majority of the people and not the twenty per cent represented by capital and labor."

Willmot L. Moorehouse, one of the chief organizers and temporary president of the union today declared the union will inaugurate a "bloodless revolution" to correct present conditions.

"We will use the boycott or whatever method we find most suited to bring down the high cost of living,"
he said. "If, to accomplish this, labor cost—wages—must come down, too, I am confident the laboring man won't kick. His dollar is only worth fifty cents; if we make it worth a dollar, we will really realize his salary is twice as valuable."

"The big fellows in business are responsible for excessive profits. The storekeeper. And they are the ones who profit from high prices. They can hold on to their dollars until they rise from 50 cents to a dollar
in value and have twice as much;
while the middle class man and even the laborer with his high wages must pay out his twice-normal salary in doubled prices."

Membership in a labor union is not a bar to membership in the "bourgeoisie" union. According to Moore-house none is barred. Work of organizations will be chiefly through community centers and other existing civic organizations. The creators of the middle class union hope to enroll American Legion chapters in their entirety.

Taxation, as well as living costs—
in fact, any problem affecting the members of the union—will be taken up.

While present plans are being made for New York state, application may be made in the near future for a national charter, it is said.

BETTER GOVERNMENT FOR IRELAND ASSURED

KING GEORGE OPENS PARLIA-MENT WITH DECLARATION THAT IRELAND GIVES HIM CONCERN

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—King George in his speech from the throne today at the re-opening of parliament, declared that the condition of Ireland gave him grave concern but that a bill would be introduced immediately containing proposals for a better government for that country.

The king told the house of commons the bill was the same as that outlined at the last session of parliament. Other bills would be introduced, which would make for betterment of conditions in Ireland. He mentioned particularly a measure extending educational facilities in that country.

Among other subjects taken up by the king were regulation of the sale and manufacture of liquors, settlement of the Adriatic dispute, reduction of the cost of necessities of life;
development of greater agricultural production in the British Isles and improvement of conditions in the coal mining industry.

WRITTEN RULING ON BONUS LAW PREPARED BY COURT

State Supreme Court's Opinion Contains Careful Discussion of Meaning of Organic Acts of Government

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—The Wisconsin supreme court handed down a written opinion on Tuesday sustaining the soldier educational bonus law, enacted by the special session of the legislature. The opinion is written by Justice A. J.
Vinje and clarifies many legal features of the law, which had been attacked by the courts. The opinion will doubtless stand as a monument in the records of the court because of the full discussion of the question of "what is a public purpose within the meaning of the organic acts creating our government."

The written opinion in the cash bonus cases was announced nearly two months ago. The validity of the educational bonus law was attacked in the same suits. Under the education law that went into the service from Wisconsin have indicated that they desire to take advantage of the educational features of the law and upwards of 5,000 of the soldiers are now attending educational institutions receiving its benefits. The law gives to the qualified soldier $30 a month while in regular attendance at an educational institution.

Wedding Tomorrow
The marriage of Miss Jennie Van Wyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Wyk, 412 Second avenue, to Howard Van Ooyen, son of Mrs.
Mary Van Ooyen, 775 Brewster street, will take place at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the Van Wyk home. Dr. H. E. Peabody will perform the ceremony. Mr. Van Ooyen is still in the U. S. service and is now spending a short furlough in this city. He will leave Monday with his bride for Des Moines, Ia., where they will make their home. Mr. Van Ooyen being stationed at Camp Dodge.

LABOR EXPERT WILL SPEAK IN APPLETON

GRAHAM TAYLOR OF CHICAGO, WILL DELIVER ADDRESSES
HERE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Graham Taylor of Chicago, one of the best known labor and industrial experts in the United States, will deliver two addresses here Sunday and Monday. Sunday, he will speak at First Congregational church and Monday morning he is to deliver an address before Lawrence college students in Memorial Chapel. He will be the guest of the Men's Club of Congregational church at a supper
Saturday night.

It is said that the industrial situation has no able interpreter than Mr. Taylor. He is a member of the Illinois coal commission and he spent several weeks at Gary, Ind., during the recent strike trouble. He knows the steel industry and the labor situation from every angle. Mr. Taylor's services are often sought on commissions of arbitration. He is also one of the greatest interpreters between the church and the industrial world.

Taylor's general subject here will be "Christianity and the Industrial Unrest."

RAISE MONEY TO KEEP YELLOW TRAIL HERE

TWENTY APPLETON MEN WILL ATTEND YELLOWSTONE TRAIL MEET AT OSH-KOSH TOMORROW

Appleton people have subscribed
the $225 necessary to retain the Yellowstone trail through this city.
John Conway announced this morning. A like sum must be raised during each of the next five years.

The question of retaining the trail through Appleton will be considered at the state meeting at Hotel Athearn, Oshkosh, at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The twenty Appleton delegates who are planning to attend the meeting will make a strong effort to prevent any change which will take the trail away from this city. Final action on the proposition will be taken at the executive committee meeting at Milwaukee in March, though the committee will be governed largely by the decision at the Oshkosh meeting tomorrow. Even at Appleton man interested is urged to be present at the meeting. The local delegation will leave on the 10:27 o'clock train tomorrow morning.

HAVE NEW EVIDENCE IN DEPORTATION CASE

WITNESS FOR DEPORTERS HAS NEW EVIDENCE TO PRESENT
AT TRIAL OF BISBEE

By United Press Leased Wire
Tombstone, Ariz.—Evidence hitherto kept from the public will be produced in the Bisbee deportation and kidnaping trials if George E. Kellogg of Shelton, Wash., appears as a witness. County Attorney French declared today.

Kellogg was a leading witness in behalf of the deportees before the commission named by President Wilson which investigated the deportation of over 1,000 striking copper miners at the same time it investigated the Mooney case.

French has a copy of the testimony
Kellogg gave before this commission.
Only a few copies of the transcript exist, French said and the publication of charges therein always has been prevented.

According to the transcript, the outstanding points to which Kellogg would testify are:

That Col. J. C. Greenway, manager of the Calumet Arizona Mine, suggested the deportations.

The Western Union office at Bisbee was closed between two and three hours while the deportations were in progress, on order from Captain Stout, manager of the Phelps Dodge Smelter. It is said the Western Union manager thought Stout was an army captain.

That Stout asked Kellogg to censor
the telephone wires but Kellogg could not on account of the interstate commerce commission regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Preston of Shiocton, spent a few days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Schuh, Appleton street.

Mrs. A. Fierce left for Milwaukee to visit with relatives.

Mrs. Frank Moza, daughter of Mrs. John Schuh of this city, has been very ill with influenza at her home in Milwaukee, according to word received here. She is recovering slowly.

DEFEATIST POLICY IN NAVY ATTACKED BY ADMIRAL SIMS

SECRETARY OF NAVY IS AC-CUSED OF AWARING HON-ORS TO MEN DEFEATED
IN BATTLE

CONGRESSMEN TO TESTIFY

Admiral Denies Charge That He Said Armistice Was Necessary Because Pershing's Supply System Failed

(By Raymond Clapper.)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Admiral William S.
Sims today accused Secretary Daniels of pursuing a "defeatist policy."

This policy, Sims declared, is more detrimental to the fighting spirit of the navy than the worst form of bolshevism is to organized government.

Sims, who resumed his testimony
before the senate naval affairs subcommittee investigating medal awards, declared he is willing to make any personal sacrifice to prevent such a policy getting a permanent hold in the navy.

"The policy of rewarding defeat which the navy department openly supports is more detrimental to the fighting spirit of our navy or any other military organization in the world, than the worst form of bolshevism is to organized government," Sims declared.

"By injecting this 'defeatist germ'
into our navy and attempting to make it a permanent policy I believe that inestimable harm will result unless something can be done to eradicate it before it becomes officially established in the service."

"I am willing to undertake any risk or make any sacrifice regardless of personal considerations to prevent this defeatist policy from getting a permanent policy. I believe it is more important for the future safety of the country to eliminate than to build a dozen battleships."

"What is the use of spending millions for battleships if you are going to offer special rewards for the officers who sink them?"

Senator Carter Glass, Virginia, Congressmen Byrnes, South Carolina, and Whaley, South Carolina,
all democrats, were asked to testify
before the senate naval affairs subcommittee this afternoon regarding statements Rear Admiral Sims is charged with having made to them while they were visiting Europe during the war.

Sims today flatly denied the statements attributed to him by Byrnes
in a recent speech in the house.

Senator Pitman, democrat, requested that the congressmen be called to state their recollection of what Sims said.

Byrnes in his speech quoted Sims
as having declared that the armistice had to be signed because Pershing's supplies failed, that Great Britain carried two thirds of the American troops to France and that the United States ought to abandon hopes of a world-wide merchant marine and "leave the seas to Great Britain."

"I consider these very serious charges," Senator Pitman said in making his request.

"Sure," replied Admiral Sims in differently bringing a titter from the audience.

The decision of the sub-committee to call the congressmen before it came after Sims had charged Secretary Daniels with pursuing a "defeatist policy," which is characterized as more dangerous to the navy than the "worst form of bolshevism is to organized government."

These congressmen in their trip through Europe have gotten things mixed up," Sims said, denying Byrnes charges.

"Headlines that we were doing the whole thing were hurting us and making difficult our relations with the Allies," Sims said. "I was trying to put them straight."

His statement that the British carried two-thirds of the American troops to France was intended to appeal only to the first year of the war
during the early rush of troops shipment, Sims said.

His relations with Pershing, Sims said, were so cordial that "they barely stopped short of an exchange of photographs."

Sims said he told Byrnes and other congressmen visiting the war zone
what the criticisms were and cautioned them against believing the charges.

"I never held the absurd opinion that the armistice had to be signed because our supplies broke down," Sims said.

Abandon Hope For Universal Army Training

Action of Democrats in Defying President Wilson's Request Virtually Degrades All Chance for Action in This Session

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Hope of passing a program of universal military training at this session of congress appears virtually gone today. The action of the house democratic caucus last night in bolting the leadership of President Wilson and expressing disapproval of universal military training legislation by a vote of 106 to 17 seems certain to spell defeat for the program. At least half of the republicans are against it at this time because of the large expenditures said to be necessary and the combination of this faction with the democrats will prevent the final approval of such a measure by the house even though it can be forced through the senate, it is apparent.

The caucus by a vote of 88 to 27 refused President Wilson's request that no action on universal military training question be taken now. The president considered such action an unwise political move at this time.

The overwhelming vote against the program largely came from the house where it is opposed because it would give military training to thousands of negroes.

Virtually all the leading democrats in the house opposed the president.

There was no discussion of the treaty and the senate at once returned to its regular legislative business.

As Lodge reported the treaty, it carries the Lodge reservations with it, hence discussion next Monday will center on them. Lodge intends to ask that the reservations be considered singly, beginning with the preamble, or resolving clause of the resolution of ratification.

Lodge wants to clear away pending legislation before taking up the treaty.
In the meanwhile intense activity is likely in an effort to frame a modification of Lodge's reservation on article X which will get sixty-four senators votes (the two-thirds necessary for ratification) and at the same time be acceptable to President Wilson.

Senators realize, they said, that they will be wasting time if they ratify the treaty with reservations that Wilson will not accept. There appears to be a sincere desire to make the ratification effective. The remainder of this week is to be spent in trying to work out an agreement which will result in shortening debate, and quickly disposing of the treaty after it actually is taken up.

Lodge has decided on the modification of the Lodge reservations he will present. They will include the changes decided on by the bi-partisan conferences and in amending the Lenroft reservations on voting power.
This is the reservation which Lord Grafton in his letter the British embassy "cannot accept." Lodge's proposed amendment would give Great Britain
the option of "having" six votes—her own and those of her five colonies—
in the league assembly, in which case
she must give the United States six or of disfranchising her colonies and using but one in which case the United States would have but one vote. This option could be exercised in each case during in the league assembly, under Lodge's plan.

Lodge himself will not propose any change in the article X reservation
but has agreed to let mild reserva-tionists present to the senate proposals they have drafted for modification of this reservation.

Democratic senators are preparing to oppose any effort to make textual amendments to the treaty when it comes back from the committee. Senator Johnson, California, has announced he will again offer his amendment on voting power. The democrats wish to limit the proposals to reservations. Democratic leaders have conferred with Vice President Marshall to get his idea of the rules on this point. Marshall is understood to construe the rules as prohibiting textual amendments, if the treaty comes back to the senate with the resolution of ratification attached to it, as it will under the instructions issued yesterday to the committee by the senate.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE TO BE DISBANDED

ORGANIZATION WHICH BROUGHT ABOUT VOTES FOR WOMEN WILL PASS OUT OF EXISTENCE

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The woman's suffrage organization will die. Carrie Chapman Catt said here today. But its spirit will live. It will survive in an organization to teach women the arts and sciences of politics.

"That's something men never had,"
Mrs. Catt said. "They needed it badly too."

Mrs. Catt was one of the suffrage leaders here in advance of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association's final meeting to extend from

CITY MARKETS ARE DISCUSSED AT MEET OF WOMAN'S CLUB

SUBJECT IS VIEWED FROM MANY ANGLES BY SPEAKERS—CONTRIBUTE TO ARMENIAN RELIEF

"Municipal Markets" was the subject of the program presented last night at the meeting of the Appleton Woman's club by the Home Economics department of which Miss Mabel Burke is chairman. Mrs. R. H. Purdy, Mrs. Carl Schütz, and Miss Carrie E. Morgan were the speakers.

The business session, which preceded the program, was presided over by Miss Carrie E. Morgan in the absence of the president, Mrs. D. O. Kinsman. An appeal by Mrs. Stephen Rosebush for stricken Armenia called forth a material response by the women of the club. It was voted that the Appleton Woman's club should contribute $30 toward the Near East Relief fund.

The rest of the business session was devoted to reports. Announcement given over to the Home Economics department. Mrs. R. H. Purdy opened the program by reading an article on "Municipal Markets." The article dealt with the purposes and advantages of the city market and some of the problems that must arise in establishing them. She read another article on the city market which had been established in Bradford, Pa., and which was a success.

Mrs. Carl Schütz gave an interesting talk on two city markets with which she had come into contact, one at Baltimore, Md., and one at Los Angeles, Calif. The first one is considered the largest open air market in the world. It is not strictly speaking, a city market having been started by private individuals who were too poor to pay rent in the regular business district. Starting from so modest a beginning it has grown to an enormous extent and is now a prosperous business.

The market in Los Angeles was established by the city and is much smaller. It is only open two days in the week and only crude shelter is provided. But on those two days the farmers and producers have on sale the choicest, freshest vegetables and fruits, dairy products, poultry, and even plants.

"In Los Angeles, marketing in the city markets is fashionable. It depends on the housewives of Apple-

SPECIAL AGENT FOR INDUSTRY CENSUS IN APPLETON DISTRICT

APPLETON WILL BE ONE OF THE 26 CITIES IN WHICH AGENTS WILL BE STATIONED

Close on the heels of the census of population and agriculture comes the next big step in the work of the fourteenth Decennial Census—that of taking the census of manufacturers, mines and quarries and oil and gas wells. Director Rogers of the Census Bureau announced today that March 1 would see the work of collecting Uncle Sam's industrial statistics well under way. The general schedules have already been mailed to all manufacturing establishments in the country, approximately 400,000.

More than 1200 special agents will be needed by the Census Bureau to carry on the vast work of enumerating each factory, mine, quarry, oil and gas well in the nation, and Director Rogers has issued an open invitation for all men interested to file applications for these jobs immediately with the Census Bureau, Washington. In his statement Mr. Rogers says that the work of the special agents will be from two to four months duration and that an energetic agent can earn from $125 to $150 per month. When traveling a per diem subsistence allowance is also made.

The State of Wisconsin for the purposes of the industrial census work has been divided into 26 districts with Milwaukee, Madison, LaCrosse, and Grand Rapids as headquarters for the chief special agent sent out from Washington to present plans 36 special agents will be needed in the 26 Wisconsin districts with headquarters in the following cities: Racine or Waukesha, Elkhorn, Janesville, Monroe, Portage, Juneau, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh, Shawano, Marinette, Wausau, Ashland or Rhinelander, Superior, Baraboo, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Baraboo and Dodgeville.

The firm makes a specialty of paper mill machinery. Because of the growth it has been found necessary to build a large addition to the foundry at the east end of the plant and one to the erecting shop at the west end.

The addition to the foundry is enclosed and is nearing completion, while work has just been commenced on the foundation walls of the erecting shop. The additions is to be equipped with all the latest devices for handling heavy machinery.

LAWRENCE GRAPPLERS TO MEET HOLY NAME BOYS

Wrestlers from St. Mary Church Will Match Strength and Skill Against Collegians Tomorrow Night

Lawrence wrestlers will meet the team of the Holy Name Junior Society in a dual meet in Lawrence gym at eight o'clock tomorrow night. The Lawrence team is working hard for this meet.

The strength of the Holy Name team is still uncertain. They have a line-up of some very husky men but whether they are "A" quality wrestlers will be decided tomorrow night. There will be 11 or 12 matches contested, the winner to be decided by the best two out of three seven minute bouts in each class.

In the 115 pound class, Allison will oppose Smith, Atkinson will oppose either either McCoy or Brautigan or both and Mals or Kiesel will oppose Caze in the 125 pound class. McCourt against Hiller and Carroll against Wineman will be the entries in the 135 pound class. Swanton against Fisher, Ira Benis against Kober, and Gilmore against McElough are matched in the 145 pound class. Nowak against Kamps and Thomas against Crowe will furnish the excitement in the 158 pound class. Captain Wundrow against Kenzel and some opponent still unpicked for Brumm in the heavier weights finish the rest of the evening's program. There still may be some changes in the line-ups of the two teams but good fast wrestling will be the order of the evening if the present condition of the two teams is any indication.

APPLETON OFFICERS ARREST TWO YOUTHS WANTED IN OSHKOSH

LADS INTEND TO SPEND NIGHT IN Y. M. C. A. BUT SLEEP IN POLICE STATION INSTEAD

Business picked up considerably in police circles over night. It is practically the first time an arrest has been made in two months. Two boys whose appearance was suspicious were taken into custody by Sergeant Moore at about 9:30 o'clock last evening. They had taken possession of two comfortable chairs at the Y. M. C. A. with the evident intention of reposing there for the night. The suspicions of the police were confirmed when the boys were examined, for one wore a belt from which a long knife was suspended, and the other had a hunting knife and a flash light, together with other trinkets. One of them is Adam Morasch, aged 14, who gave his home as 427 Punhoqua street, Oshkosh. The other gave his name as Richard Slater, aged 20, and while saying he had no home at present admitted that his father lived at Oshkosh and that his mother was dead. The latter was released from the Wisconsin State Reformatory at Green Bay, November 4, 1919.

The chief of police at Oshkosh was notified of their arrest and stated that they were wanted there. An officer will come here during the day to take them to Oshkosh.

A third member of the party, Henry Weitz, was arrested yesterday in Fond du Lac after police officers in Oshkosh had started to drag a river there in search of his body. According to information received here, Weitz, who is 14 years old, was given a sum of money to pay his parents' meat bill but failed to do so and left the city. He had expected to accompany the other two boys to Appleton but went to Fond du Lac instead.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE IS NEEDED IN CITY

SUGGESTED THAT CLEARING HOUSE FOR LABOR BE ESTABLISHED IN APPLETON CITY HALL

A communication received by Gustave Keller, postmaster, from the United States Civil Service commission, outlines a plan for placing information of examinations in the hands of every employment bureau that is not operated as a commercial enterprise, and asks that arrangements to this effect be made in Appleton.

Where to direct this information is a question the postmaster cannot readily solve, because Appleton maintains no such agency at the present time. The county Council of Defense maintained this work during the war, and is still being cared for by George A. Schmidt.

It has been suggested that the city establish an employment agency at the city hall in connection with one of the city departments. There is not a sufficient demand in Appleton for an elaborate organization, and if taken in hand by one of the municipal offices, could be handled without imposing much work or expense. There should be a clearing house of some kind, here, it is stated, and the request of the civil service board may have the effect of establishing one.

GUARD CAMPAIGN GETS OFF TO GOOD START LAST NIGHT

MORE THAN A DOZEN MEN ARE ENLISTED FOLLOWING A SUPPER AND SHORT ADDRESSES

Appleton's recruiting campaign for the National Guard got off to a flying start last night when 65 men attended the initial meeting at armory G. More than a dozen men were enlisted.

The program started with a supper and immediately thereafter a number of men started a scouting expedition which resulted in bringing in 12 men to be enlisted. Short talks were given by Col. H. E. Pomeroy, Captain M. S. Peerenboom, Lieut. Arthur Ritger and Lieut. William Buskie. Lieut. Raymond Manville, in charge of recruiting here, explained the plan and urged all former veterans of the war to get back in the harness. He said that if the men now in the company continue their enthusiastic work the company will be recruited to full strength before the end of the campaign.

A recruiting officer will be at the armory every day and every evening this week and the men were urged to send all prospects to him so that details of the service can be explained. He said that Appleton had the material to make the best company in the state.

Lieut. Manville urged the manufacturers to get behind the movement and agree to pay the salaries of their employees while they are attending camp. He explained that enlistment in the National guard will exempt men from the universal military training law which he expects will be enacted soon.

Dr. W. J. Frawley, examining officer, will be at the armory Wednesday evening after 7:45 o'clock and all recruits will be asked to appear for examination at that time.

was made by the secretary that the total membership of the club had reached 356 and this number was increased by 14 when it was voted to accept the new members submitted by the membership committee.

An amendment to the constitution was proposed providing that any woman over eighteen years of age residing outside of Outagamie county but had once been a resident could become an honorary member by applying for membership and paying the dues. This proposal will be voted upon at the next meeting.

Miss Morgan, presiding officer, announced that the next meeting of the Appleton Woman's club will be held Feb. 24. The program will be under the direction of the Health department which has already secured Dr. Brumbaugh of Milwaukee as a speaker. The Health department includes the entire membership of the former Child Welfare Circle which voted to come into that department as a body according to the report made by Mrs. George Wettengel. Mrs. Wettengel further stated that it is the plan of the department not only to continue the work of the Child Welfare Circle but to extend its scope to the Wisconsin Anti-tuberculosis work and social hygiene.

The first social session of the club will be held Feb. 17 at the Appleton high school gymnasium according to the announcement made by Mrs. George Woelz, chairman of the committee.

1921 STATE BOWLING TOURNAMENT WILL BE HELD IN MILWAUKEE

OFFICERS OF STATE ASSOCIATION PREFER CREAM CITY TO EITHER GREEN BAY OR MADISON

Milwaukee—After eleven years of anxious waiting and untiring efforts, during which time it devoted its wholehearted support to warrant the success of as many Wisconsin state bowling tournaments, the city of Milwaukee was awarded the 1921 tourney at a meeting held in the county court house here Monday night.

Madison and Green Bay also put in bids for the event but by the unanimous vote of the officials of the Wisconsin Bowling association, decided upon Milwaukee as the legitimate site for the next tournament.

Gov. E. L. Philipp attended the gathering but made no statements as to where he believed the 1921 meeting should take place. He paid tribute to the manner in which the Wisconsin Bowling association moguls have promoted the bowling sports throughout the state, and expressed the hope that the bowlers of Wisconsin would adopt the pin pastime as their feature winter recreation. He also urged the co-operation of the employers and employees.

Among the prominent men present at the meeting to urge the cause of their respective cities, were Louis Koticki, Milwaukee city comptroller; Frank Cleveland, convention secretary of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce; Don Mowrey, secretary of the Madison A. of C.; Mayor Charles Sayles, and Postmaster Devine of Madison, and Gus Walters of Green Bay, 1919 president of the Wisconsin Bowling association.

Big scores were scarce in the state bowling tournament here on Monday. The Green Bay, Milwaukee, Kenosha, Madison, Stoughton and Sun Prairie pin-swatters, who occupied the drives could not tip or even threaten to tip the leaders from their seats.

The highest total in the doubles came when F. Spevchek and S. Genrich of Milwaukee finished their performances. They came through with 1,150 and the score pushed them into fifth place in the standings. Genrich's shooting was a feature. He counted 670 in the two-men events. W. Van Beek, paired with Sam Sardinous tallied 1,150 and slipped into seventh position with 1,150. There was not a single score over 600 in the individual event and incidentally there were no changes.

CREDIT MEN OF STATE MEET IN MILWAUKEE

(By United Press)
Milwaukee.—The Wisconsin Association of Credit Men today was holding its annual conference here. Invitations had been extended to the Wisconsin Bankers' association and the advertising and jobbers' division of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce.

Mitchell Joannes, Green Bay, will discuss high prices. Joseph P. Fitch, Oshkosh banker, will discuss taxation. Charles J. Bretzman, Fond du Lac banker, will discuss handling of debtors, and F. A. Blood of the University of Wisconsin, will talk on mercantile agency reports.

Among other speakers scheduled are: F. P. Mann, president of the North Dakota Retailers' association; Curtis R. Burnett, Newark, N. J., president of the National Association of Credit Men; and Joseph LaGreve, Sault Ste. Marie.

MAJOR LEAGUES MEET TO IRON OUT TROUBLES

FIGHT AGAINST BAN JOHNSON IS EXPECTED TO BE RESUMED IN JUNIOR LEAGUE MEETING

Chicago—Annual meetings of both major leagues were held here today. The National league session will be short with little business on the books, according to indications. Practically all of the annual affairs were cleaned up at the December session.

With the American league, a different story was promised. The fight against Ban Johnson was to be resumed by the insurgents. An attempt may be made to settle the squabble, it was reported.

In addition to the American club representatives accomplished little real business at the December meeting and will have to go over the annual routine today.

The American league will also consider the new regulations designed to abolish freak pitching, adopted by the rules committee meeting yesterday. The National league has already agreed to the proposed rules.

All pitching tricks are eliminated by the committee's action. A player will be suspended for ten days for the first violation and a heavy fine as well as suspension is provided for the second offense. Each club may retain two spitball pitchers this season. No new pitchers will be allowed to use the spitball.

American Association magnates, who met yesterday remained over to attend the joint session of the minor and major leagues. The long schedule, 168 games, was adopted by the association.

Two new cities were added to the Three Eye league—Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Rock Island, Ill. Al. Kearney was chosen president for a five year term.

The joint meeting of the major leagues to pick a national chairman will be held tomorrow.

INTERLAKES WILL PLAY OSHKOSH HERE WEDNESDAY

Appleton Interlakes will tackle the strong Co. B team of Oshkosh, at the armory tomorrow night. The visitors have scored a victory over the locals at the Sawdust City, but the Interlakes are confident of evening the contest tomorrow night.

LENTEN SEASON WILL BEGIN IN ONE WEEK

ASH WEDNESDAY FALLS ON FEBRUARY 18 THIS YEAR—EASTER OBSERVED ON APRIL 4.

Lent, that forty days' season of sackcloth and ashes, will be ushered in this year Wednesday, Feb. 18, two weeks earlier than last year and five days later than on the year previous.

With the return of this period of self-abnegation and humility, all Christian people will make preparations for the feast of Easter. In all of the churches of the city special Lenten services will be observed, but most particularly in the Catholic and Episcopal churches will the time of repentance and penance be kept.

The method of determining the time of Lent dates back to mediaeval times, when after much argument and discussion, it was decided that the first Sunday following the first full moon after March 21—the vernal equinox—should be Easter Sunday.

And the forty-day period before that date, exclusive of Sundays, should determine Ash Wednesday.

The forty days is significant of the forty-day fast of Christ. During this period the church asks her people to practice self-denial and penance in commemoration of the Savior's forty days in the mountains.

Ash Wednesday, Feb. 18; Palm Sunday, March 28; Maundy Thursday, April 1; Good Friday, April 2; and Easter Sunday, April 4, are the days that are particularly observed.

Ash Wednesday is so named as a reminder to people that they sprang from dust, and into dust they will return; Palm Sunday is the day upon which palms brought from the Holy Land are blest and distributed; Maundy Thursday commemorates the institution of the Holy Eucharist at the last supper; Good Friday is observed in memory of the Savior's passion and crucifixion, and Easter, of course, is celebrated in honor of His resurrection.

MOTHER KEEPS TWO DAY VIGIL BESIDE BODY OF DAUGHTER

MRS. EMILY MAY FAVRE SLAYS 12 YEAR OLD CHILD BUT IS UNABLE TO END OWN LIFE.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
New York—Mrs. Emily May Favre, 34, was arraigned today on a charge of killing her 12-year old daughter Emily Margaret. She was held without bail for hearing Saturday.

Mrs. Favre was very cool and smiled frequently as she talked with the magistrate. On her way from jail to the court she asked for the morning papers and after reading the accounts of her alleged crime declared that "when the time comes" she "will give a very good reason" for her act.

She declined to explain what she meant. She frustrated photographers by carrying her muff before her face.

Mrs. Favre sat for two days beside the body of her daughter, whom she shot through the heart Saturday morning as she lay asleep in her apartment in the Ashton hotel, she confessed to the police after her arrest on a charge of homicide. She had tried to turn her pistol on herself, but lacked the courage, she said. The little girl was ill with influenza.

Financial worries had temporarily unbalanced her mind, Mrs. Favre said. She had been receiving monthly payments from an interest in a lumber business left her by her father, and when these failed to arrive last week she wrote to a Mr. Jackson at the company's New York office threatening to kill herself if the money was not forthcoming at once.

The mails were delayed by the storm and Jackson did not get the letter until today.

His representative called at Mrs. Favre's apartment hotel without delay, and, receiving no response, got the house manager to force the door. They found Mrs. Favre sitting beside her dead daughter with a pistol in her hand.

The condition of Miss Mildred Carter, the Outagamie county training school teacher who has been critically ill at St. Elizabeth hospital for several days is improving and will soon be out of danger.

APPLETON BANKS BUY COUNTY BONUS BONDS

APPLETON STATE AND CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK PURCHASE BONDS THIS MORNING

Outagamie county soldier bonus bonds amounting to $167,195.14, were sold this morning jointly to Appleton State Bank and Citizens' National bank. The county will receive par value plus accrued interest from March 1, the date of issue.

It was announced at the courthouse yesterday that unless the bonds were purchased before tomorrow morning the money would be raised in the next tax levy and a meeting of the finance committee had been scheduled to take this action. The committee meeting has been called off. Heretofore the banks have refused to offer even as much as par value for the bonds.

THE PEACE LEAGUE.

The world is begging for peace. It cannot have it because an American president who gave Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan everything they wanted, will not have peace until the United States gives up rights and power which make it a free nation and gives them up in spite of the fact that no nation wants the surrender made.—Chicago Tribune.

That is the Chicago Tribune view. There is no evidence that it is the American view. If anything, the evidence is to the contrary. There has been no disclosure of the Senate having been flooded with petitions demanding ratification of the league of nations covenant solely on the basis of the Lodge reservations, which represent a political rather than a national idea. Most of the petitions to the Senate have urged ratification with or without reservations, while the American Federation of Labor, the American Bar Association, Mr. Taft and many other distinguished Republicans have indorsed the covenant as drawn. Most of the colleges and universities and their student body show a pronounced leaning toward the league on the basis submitted. So does a heavy proportion of the banking and financial interests. It is obvious it is not the president alone, powerless for months to raise his voice for the league, who stands in the way of peace on the Tribune theory.

No one man in this country, including the president himself, is so great or powerful as to dictate national policies which override public opinion. If his position does control it is because it represents an idea or a principle which public opinion supports. It would be an idle and manifest misstatement to say President Wilson's beliefs as to a league to enforce peace have no hold upon the thought and conscience of the American people. We do not say they predominate. We do not say they do not. There is no way of answering that question, except by deduction, and this process is by no means against him in its results.

The truth is the people do not know the president's exact views. For reasons of his own he withholds them, but it is a fair inference that he is not hostile to reasonable reservations which more accurately interpret the responsibilities and duties of the United States and which place them strictly within constitutional limitations. But regardless of the president's attitude, is there anything which prevents the Senate from proceeding with its function of passing upon treaties submitted to it and ratifying the league covenant in some form? Is the Senate in fear or incapacity of defining the basis on which it believes the league of nations should be organized?

The world is begging for peace, and this includes the United States, but it is merely the prejudiced political view of the Tribune that the president prevents it. It is the American Senate, we should say, which stands in the way of peace. Who can say whether or not the president will accept ratification until there is ratification? Clearly it is the Senate's and not the president's move.

It is insisted by its opponents that the covenant surrenders rights and powers which make this a free nation. We fail to see that this is true, although it may of course be conceded that we do accept responsibilities which in an international sense somewhat limit our freedom of action, but how could we organize with other nations to enforce peace without yielding something of this character in common with them? Even arbitration of disputes involves a restraint upon our freedom, and all desire this.

The meat of the whole controversy lies in the text and purpose of Article X. Disputes over other articles are of minor importance, because a fair construction of them sustains our national control on the premises contested. The mild reservationists believe the purpose of Article X can be preserved with an altered text which definitely states the constitutional jurisdiction of Congress. The Lodge faction wants to repudiate the Article altogether. That is the issue the Senate cannot or will not decide. We have no doubt the consensus of American opinion is with the mild reservationists, and that ratification of the treaty in this form would bring no protest, but rather popular satisfaction.

Nor is it a question of compelling the world to take us on our own terms, as The Tribune likes to iterate the original notice of the senate foreign relations committee. If Europe, on its knees to the United States seeking peace, is ready to bow to our dictum, that is no reason for taking advantage of her. The duty of this country is to enter the league with the sincere and honest purpose of doing its honorable part toward enforcing world peace. It must be just to others as well as to itself. "Our own terms" must be terms of fairness and good faith. We do not think there is any doubt but what we can and should enter the league on a less arbitrary basis than that embodied in the Lodge reservations, and that a compromise which seeks to take no advantage of any one and which at the same time proclaims to the world a continuance of the lofty purposes for which we went to war in 1917 is wholly desirable. That this open, frank course would be an almost irresistible force for universal peace—at least for the ending of Wars of Conquest and aggression—can hardly be challenged.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The National Guard on Monday night began the peace time drive for recruits to fill various companies and batteries in the Wisconsin National Guard.

After a period of service in the stern realities of war, the young men who have served are always, for a period, desirous for freedom from military organizations. The calls to reveille and stables, mess and guard are attractive in story, but for the daily routine are not. Yet the young men who, because of their very youth, could not go into the army when the great war was on, should take up the lesser duties required in the National Guard. Particularly is this true of the National Guard of Wisconsin. The record of the 32nd Division can never die. The men in that division brought everlasting glory to the country they served. They gave their greatest efforts by direction of the finest of human qualities, honor.

The National Guard offers to young men the opportunity of getting a fair amount of military training. The military end is not over done. The young men receive a training which is of inestimable value to them as well as to the community. And men who have sufficient spirit to offer their services and accept the training are entitled to the consideration of the community they serve. Wise judges of men, seeking out conscientious help generally prefer men belonging to military organizations such as the National Guard, because of a feeling that such men are reliable and dependable.

In addition to military training, as we generally understand the term, these men are taught valuable principles of sanitation and good living. They are taught how to do a thing efficiently and orderly. By joining the Wisconsin National Guard they not only better themselves, but they receive reasonable compensation for so doing.

Today's Poem

IF NOW WE PRAY
Lo! man has ever called upon the Name,
And on the door of heaven hung his claim,
Absolved himself, and given God the blame.

Yet was there not one come from Nazareth
Telling of larger life and lesser death,
If man loved man as each man loves his breath.

Deem us not impious then if now we pray
Not for more faith in God with each new day,
But for man's faith in man to last away.

Yea, though our faith be humbled to the dust, Yet shall it rise again and ever must Knowing we perish if we learn not trust.

FIGHT KAISER'S CLAIMS

Berlin—Long before the Versailles conference decreed there should be practically no German army or navy, Herr Knorr, Pan-German and true to the Kaiser, passed away and left a will.

Under the terms of the testament, Knorr gave most of his fortune, consisting of property and securities, to the Kaiser to be used for military purposes. Now the widow of the old man and her half-brother have gone to the courts to demand their share of his worldly goods.

The Knorrs argue the man would never have given the Kaiser his property and money if he had known it could not have been used in the furtherance of German military policies. The former emperor's interests are represented by an attorney.

"Supposing I give you your supper," said the tired-looking woman, "what would you do to earn it?"

"Madame," said the wanderer, "I'd give you do opportunity of seeing a man go 'trot a whole meal without finding fault with a single thing."

One is faced with the seriousness of the situation as he is told the same thing in every shop or restaurant he enters and offers a bill or a large coin in payment for goods or food.

The woman thought a minute, and then told him to come in and she'd set the table.

Feeling of a Coming Earthquake

Makes Our Escape Perilous?

"Has Certes fainted? Or is he dead?" I whispered. Bob. With an effort to help a human being in distress which was involuntary and feminine, I would have rushed to the side of the wounded man. My husband drew me back into a dark corner of the recess.

"He'll live—without your help," he said savagely. "Keep still!"

Don Manuel felt of the pulse of the fallen man, looked about the room, examined the wine bottles on the table and found them empty, and at length hurried away leaving open the door through which they had entered.

"Now is your chance, dear. Go! Go!" commanded my husband.

"You mean—I'm to follow him? And leave you here?" I asked.

"Exactly! Take the automatic. That's right. Now trot along and find Morrison. Show him the way back. I'll have a brace of prisoners ready for him. Hurry, dear!"

I kissed Bob and tried to hurry. I looked just a moment upon the white face of Hamilton Certes. Then I approached the narrow door. It opened upon a flight of stone steps. At the top of them was visible a strip of blue sky. The glare of it hurt my eyes.

I beckoned to Bob.

"It's a path to the roof—and I'm afraid," I murmured as he reached my side. "You'll have to go with me. I—I'm afraid. The light makes me feel wobbly," I complained.

"Do you feel shaky, too?" Bob asked. "I wonder—why we both feel queer," he said.

With a reluctant glance in the direction of his enemy, he put his arms around me and half carried me up the steps. When our eyes were on a level with the roof, he stooped and set me down.

"I'd almost think this building was shaking," he said. "I suppose it's my legs. I guess I need something to eat."

Then we looked cautiously over the roofs. I have described the hacienda more than once. We were looking over an expanse of roofs of different levels—the tops of buildings which had been added as the years went by and had been enlarged by the builders in different generations. We hadn't the slightest idea which way to turn in order to find a way down.

"There's nobody upon the roofs!" said Bob. "The way is clear—if we ever find it. Queer, though. After a fight like that, I should think there would be quite a party of refugees up here!"

Then he gave me a searching glance—just as I turned a scared face up to him.

"You notice it—again?" he asked. "That wobbly feeling?"

"Yes!" I replied. "It made me dizzy, for a second!"

"I guess it's plain why the roof is deserted. It's the earth my dear, that's shaking!"

"An earthquake?"

Bob took my arm for an answer. "In a far corner was a tower. He rushed me toward it. 'Where there's a tower, there must be a stairway or a ladder,' he said. Then the roof upon which we stood sank a little to one side—and righted itself. It was a motion which we felt, rather than perceived with our eyes."

A flock of pigeons wheeled close to us but paid no attention to us. A pane of glass cracked sharply in a skylight at our feet.

Bob fairly dragged me toward the distant tower.

"A roof is a poor place during an earthquake," he said as we reached the tower door.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

THE COUNTY FAIR

To the Editor:—The County Fair Association of Hot Springs plans to make the 1920 fair the largest and best in its history. The annual appropriation made by the county board will be used for enlarging the exhibition building, also for erecting some stock barns out of material in the present fence and a new wire fence is to be erected around the grounds. The premium list will be enlarged somewhat and the entertainment during the fair will be distributed over the grounds and will be varied to suit the public. Catering more with the instruction and educational features. Special emphasis will be placed on a competitive department for school children. Some financial assistance will be solicited for school children as the rural school work is carried on by less experienced teachers than in the city schools, and a separate classification will be made. The incorporated village schools, city ward schools and private schools will be requested to be provided for by the official body governing them, making such appropriation as they will also designate on what prizes or accomplishments the money is to be expended. The Fair Association will supply the exhibition space, care for them as for other exhibits and provide for judging. The entry fee is ten per cent of the prize offered, payable by the persons entering articles for competition and the body offering the prizes pay the same to the designated winners. Children under fifteen years and the teachers accompanying them will be admitted free one day.

The several towns of the county will be asked to make some appropriation at their annual town meetings for a town exhibit at the fair, of such character and merit as the town may choose and all entries and awards will be placed on the same scale of procedure as the schools. The association is at all times willing to give any assistance that any exhibitor may desire.

The County Fair Association desires the public to feel that the fair is its fair and that the association is only the medium to make possible the public cooperative movement. The fair is a great public school of comparisons for universal benefit in industry, in arts and sciences and a reception place for social life, and the benefits derived are just those the individual makes for himself.

The association prize offers are open to anyone residing in Outagamie and adjoining counties who desires to offer his own product or property for exhibition in his own name. The rural school competition will be the village, city and private school boards will confine their offers as they desire. Also any person, city, school, organization, or body within or outside the county will be welcomed to add their interest and cooperation in like manner.

Do not wait to be solicited or asked but everybody please act at once, manifesting as great a degree of interest and cooperation as possible. We want your assistance and are ready to receive it every day until the fair of 1920 is closed. H. N. Culbertson, President.

JANITORS EFFICIENT NOW

Boston.—Prohibition has improved Boston's janitor service 100 per cent. The reason, according to employment agencies, is because janitors and collars naturally go together, and "private stocks" are found in some collars.

The rush for positions as janitors is in full swing, according to employment agencies. "While there's prohibition, there will be lots of janitors," it was predicted.

Tenants in many apartments here say the janitors are keeping the steam up better than ever before. The answer of the employment agencies is: "Prohibition."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

C. O. W. seems to think that those wireless disturbances are none other than bids from another world for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

He Doesn't Hate Himself
Rupert Hughes evidently has experienced that thrill which comes but once in a lifetime, for after witnessing his first photoplay he sat down to the producers thusly:

"Perhaps I should be the most severe critic the picture should have, but when I saw it I forgot it was mine. I was swept along from emotion to emotion and climax to climax in a current of beauty, splendor, suspense, laughter, pity, hatred and, at the end satisfaction. * * * Never have I seen a finer cast or more perfect photography."

Rupert he doubt feels that though he is only a fair writer the directors and actors make up for his deficiencies and that anyhow he supplied them with a pretty good foundation on which to begin work.

We believe we know why the onion board craze is growing so rapidly over the country. The people have been so used to having various spirits around that since July 1 they can't seem to get along without them.

That old Yiddish joke about shoot-in-the-pants-the-cat-and-vest-belong-to-me might now be changed to: "Shoot him in the leg; the stuff on the hip belongs to me."

Last lines are an awful bother and frequently they are worse than that. When Polonius asked Hamlet what he was reading what did the latter answer?

Acidosis, Food and Exercise.

Nowadays we hear a great deal about acid intoxication or acidosis as a serious feature of various diseases. This is to be clearly distinguished from that actual or imagined "acidity" of the stomach which many people are led to believe is a disease to be treated in itself.

Acidosis is a state of the body, not only the blood but all the tissues of the body, in which there is a retention of an excessive production or an inadequate natural neutralization of certain essential by-products of the life process. These by-products represent the ash or waste left after fuel has been burned in the body. The fuel may be the food; or it may be the substance of body tissues; combustion is constant while life endures.

Suppose combustion, for some reason, slows down. In that event fuel does not burn so completely. It is not so completely oxidized. Incompletely oxidized wastes are likely to be acid in character. Thus, the waste of nitrogenous material, if incompletely oxidized, is called uric acid; if completely oxidized, thoroughly burned, the nitrogenous material yields urea.

If you burn coal or wood or almost any fuel with a free draft, plenty of oxygen, the chief waste product is carbon dioxide gas, which is in itself harmless. But if you burn coal or wood or other fuel with a restricted supply of air your experiment yields carbon monoxide, a poison. Carbon monoxide consists of one atom of carbon combined with one atom of oxygen; whereas carbon dioxide (which we give off from the lungs in breathing) consists of one atom of carbon combined with two atoms of oxygen. A little more oxygen, you see, makes a tremendous difference.

When you exercise, no matter how, you absorb more oxygen than you absorb while sitting or standing still.

An individual who exercises regularly every day is better equipped to burn up his fuel than an individual who cultivates a sedentary or lazy existence. The individual who exercises completely oxidizes his waste matters, completely oxidizes his assimilated food; therefore he is not menaced constantly by incompletely oxidized substances—acid substances.

He stands illness better, and has a better chance to survive a serious illness than the sedentary individual.

Appetite is an artificial thing, tampered with and doped and altered by every art of the cook. It leads men into temptation at every meal. We are constantly tempted to eat more than we can oxidize. Particularly is this true of the sedentary classes—(though, in all truth, there need be no such classes). For a sedentary individual to put away as much food at one meal or at all meals as does an individual who takes active exercise every day, is a huge mistake which has all to do with short life and ill health that physicians have said it has these many years. The sedentary individual with an unnatural hearty appetite deliberately subjects himself to acid intoxication by satisfying that unnatural appetite. Even in the baby on a bottle we know that the amount of food consumed by the baby is, or should be determined by the amount of exercise the baby takes every day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Checking Perspiration
Is it injurious to check perspiration under the arms? If not can you suggest something for the purpose? (R. K.)

ANSWER—Mop the skin once each alternate day for three or four days with a solution of half an ounce of aluminum chloride in two ounces of distilled or rain water, and allow this to dry before dressing.

The Germs Liked It.

My son has boils on the back of his neck. We poulticed the first one with flaxseed and now there are two new ones coming. Kindly tell me what causes them? (Mrs. J., M. I.)

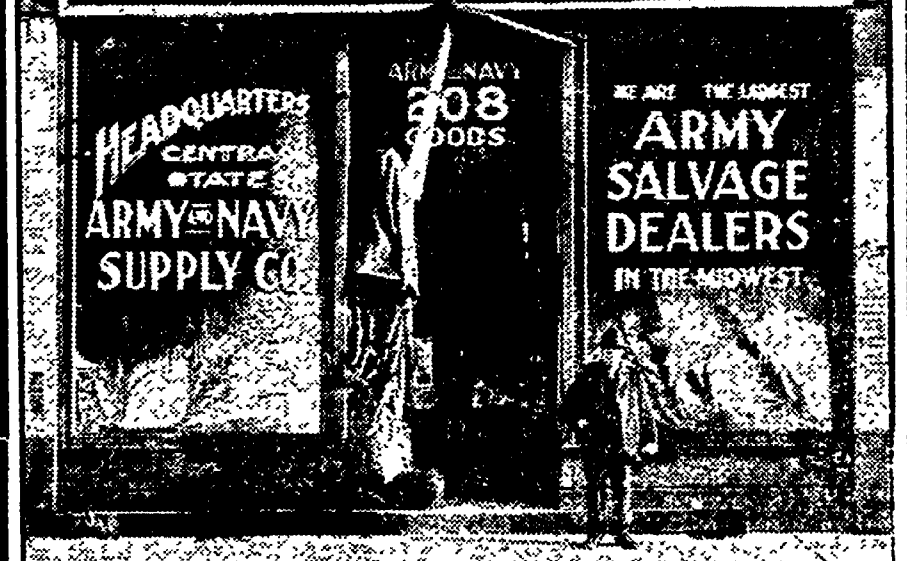

ANSWER—The original boil was caused by Staphylococcus (pus producing germs) which are present on every skin. They gained entrance through some trifling abrasion made by neckband or injury.

But the two new boils were probably caused by your treatment. Flaxseed poultice is an ideal culture medium for such germs, also it tends to soften and render the neighboring skin more susceptible to infection. Never apply a poultice which favors germ growth if germs are already causing trouble. A dressing which accomplishes everything a poultice can accomplish, i. e. does not favor germ growth, but does favor drainage and healing, is made by keeping large pads of cheese-cloth (surgical gauze) constantly moistened with a solution of a heaping tablespoonful of citrate of soda in one quart amount of common salt in a pint of hot water; a fresh pad to be applied as often as the dressing becomes appreciably soiled with discharge, and the moistening to be repeated every hour.

Why Boil the Water.
Why boil the water for nursing babies when it has been found potable by the state chemist? (Mrs. J. C. D.)

ANSWER—If your health officer or health department pronounces the water potable it is unnecessary to boil it.

The four bids were opened last night and call for a structure 60 by 80 feet in dimensions. The new building will be provided with a dance hall, private dining room and kitchen, where meals and lunches can be served on short notice.

A boat livery will be run in connection with the resort and a pier will make it possible for the largest launches to tie up.

The property includes seven acres of land on the bank of the river, a portion of which will be converted into a park. The name of the resort will be determined by a prize contest the result of which be announced on the day of the opening. Work on the new building will be commenced at once and it is the intention to have it completed within the next ninety days.

LABOR TROUBLE HAS EFFECT ON MARKET

PRICES ROSE SUDDENLY AT OPENING OF CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET THIS MORNING

Chicago — Threatened railway labor trouble was a strong bull factor on the Chicago board of trade today. At the close yesterday there was some feeling that the market was oversold and a lack of offerings at the opening today followed. The result was a quick advance. The market, despite the renewed buying, was nervous and spotty. Provisions were inclined to follow the grains although trading was not heavy.

February corn opened up 2 1/2 at $1.22 and later gained 2c additional; March opened up 1/4c at $1.29 1/2, subsequently gaining 3c more; May corn opened off 1/4c at $1.25 1/2 but recovered 2 1/2 in later trading; July opened off 1/4c at $1.22 and later gained 2 1/2.

May oats opened at 7 1/2 down 1/4 but later jumped 1 1/2; July opened up 1/4c at 67 1/2 gaining 1 1/2 additional before the close.

ABOUT TOWN

CREDIT MEETING—Joseph Leimer left today for Milwaukee to represent the S. C. Shannon company at the fifth annual state conference of the Credit Men's association. Sessions will be held at the Hotel Pfister and a banquet is to be served to the delegates Tuesday evening.

DUCKS IN RIVER—A large flock of ducks spent the greater part of Sunday at the bend of Fox river just this side of Kimberly, where it was not disturbed. The ice in the river had just gone out and it was the first flock of the season to put in its appearance.

POULTRY PRIZE—J. L. Fadner, photographer at Neenah, a former Appleton young man, is a breeder of White Wyandotte chickens and one of his pullets won first place at the poultry show at Indianapolis and one of his hens won fourth place. There were thirty-five pullets and twenty-nine hens in the two classes. At the Appleton poultry show the same pullet was awarded fifth place.

TRADES MEETING—The Trades and Labor Council will hold a regular monthly meeting next Wednesday evening.

SKAT WINNERS—Three Appleton men, Joseph E. Schweitzer, Joseph B. Langenberg, and Frank Verrier, won prizes at the state skat tournament in Milwaukee Sunday. Mr. Schweitzer won the 32nd prize; Mr. Langenberg, 171st and Mr. Verrier, 272nd.

VERITY ARRESTED—Wesley Verity was arrested here yesterday by Detective Schmirler at the request of the Menasha police. He is wanted at that city because of his alleged jumping of board bills. He is being detained at the local jail until the Menasha authorities can call for him.

BOY RUNS AWAY—The sheriff of Calumet county has requested the local police to be on the lookout for Raymond Koehler, who ran away from his home near Chilton. Koehler is 14 years of age. It is not known definitely that he came to Appleton.

GEESSE FLYING—A large flock of geese, possibly about 400, was seen Monday flying over the river near here. It is said by farmers to be a strange sight at this time of the year and is another criterion of the predicted early arrival of spring.

CASE CONTINUED—Court action started by Mrs. Catherine VanDyke, Little Chute, against the Time Insurance company of Milwaukee, in which she is endeavoring to collect $90 in insurance, was continued when the case was called in municipal court today.

ILL AT MADISON—Mrs. D. O. Kinsman left Monday for Madison to visit her daughter, Miss Marjorie, who has been confined for several weeks in Bradley Memorial hospital on account of influenza. A report received last night indicates that the young lady is out of danger. Miss Kinsman graduated last June from Lawrence college and is taking a post graduate course at the University of Wisconsin this year.

79 YEARS OLD—Capt. Fred Heinemann, who is still hale and hearty, is celebrating his 79th birthday anniversary today. He is spending the day at his office where he has received numerous congratulations both in person and by telephone. Capt. Heinemann has been a resident of Appleton for the last thirty-five years.

SHIOCTON IMMUNE—Mike Mack of Shiocton, a member of the county board and a former member of the county, state road and bridge committee, was a visitor at the courthouse this morning. He stated that influenza has not yet made its appearance in Shiocton and that there is very little sickness in that part of the country. Last winter the village had more than its share of flu.

MACHINISTS MEET—A meeting of the Machinists' local, No. 462, will be held Thursday evening at Eagle hall. The session is to begin at eight o'clock.

TALKS ON KIPLING—Lee C. Rasey, acting head of the Education department of Lawrence college, talked this morning in chapel on several of Kipling's poems. He read "The Law of the Jungle," "Lest We Forget," and discussed their significance. He also gave one of Kipling's latest, "The Gods of Maxims."

HOSPITAL MEETING—The Rev. W. A. Newing, field secretary of the Wisconsin Deaconess hospital, Green Bay, left today for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the Methodist Hospital association which convenes Wednesday and Thursday. Important business is to come before the association, relative to the Interchurch World Movement.

SKAT WINNERS—S. A. Whedon won first prize, T. H. Ryan second, and L. E. Supergman third prize at the weekly skat tournament at Elk club Monday evening. Five tables were in play.

SALVATION ARMY—Col. and Mrs. S. Gauntlett of Chicago will conduct special services at the Salvation army hall on College avenue next Monday evening. They will be accompanied by staff officers.

VOLLEY BALL—Two out of three volley ball games went to the Chippewas in last night's series with the Onondas at St. Paul Recreation club. In the tussle with the Menominees, the Sioux won two out of three and still maintain their supreme position as champions.

Surprised on Birthday
On his fourteenth birthday, Earl Wichmann was surprised by 14 of his friends. A dinner was given in his honor at his home, 455 State street, last evening. Games furnished the chief amusement of the evening.

TAKES VACATION ON HIS BIRTHDAY

A. Gabriel, proprietor of a fruit store on west College avenue, set a new pace for merchants in that part of the city yesterday by closing his place of business in honor of his birthday anniversary.

OBITUARY

CLIFFORD E. FOX
Clifford E. Fox, a former Appleton man, died Saturday morning at Fairview, Okla., of pneumonia. The body will be brought to Appleton for burial. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fox, 772 Morrison street, his wife, one son and one daughter. Funeral services will be held at the Fox home at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but the body will be taken direct from the depot to Riverside for burial. Dr. E. Peabody will be in charge of the services.

PETER MAES
Peter Maes, lock tender at the third and fourth locks for the last three years, died at four o'clock Monday afternoon at his residence on South Division street. About 2 weeks ago he was taken ill with influenza which developed into pneumonia. He was 22 years old and is survived by his widow, mother and two brothers, William and Harry, who reside in California.

The funeral will be held from his late home Wednesday morning at nine o'clock with interment at St. Joseph cemetery. Members of Company G of which he was a member will act as pall bearers.

HARPIST TO FEATURE NEXT BAND CONCERT

MISS ATHEL LINDORFF OF CHICAGO, WILL BE SOLOIST AT MEMORIAL CHAPEL ON MONDAY EVENING

Miss Athel Lindorff, Chicago, famous harpist, will be the soloist for the concert to be given by the Ninth Regimental band at Lawrence Memorial chapel next Monday evening.

The concert Monday will be the third of the winter series of six programs to be presented by the band under Lieut. F. H. Jebe, director. Regular rehearsals have been held for the past month in preparation for the concert.

Miss Lindorff holds a high place in the musical world, and Appleton people are exceptionally fortunate in having the opportunity to hear this great artist. Miss Lindorff is now appearing on the Lyceum course for the Redpath Chautauqua.

The program is being rapidly completed by Lieut. Jebe and should prove even better than the previous concert. The ticket sale will open Friday morning. Because of Miss Lindorff's appearance, it is expected a capacity audience will attend. Miss Lindorff will appear in two numbers, the titles of which have not been announced.

Four thousand aliens have been deported since the armistice.

COUNTY ROAD SCHOOL TO BE HELD MARCH 1 TO 15

Patrolmen Will Be Given Instructions and New Contracts Early Next Month—No District Road School.

A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner, received notice this morning that there would be no district road school at Green Bay this spring. The road school for Outagamie county patrolmen will be held at the courthouse from March 1 to March 15 inclusive.

The patrolmen for the coming year will be appointed at a meeting of the county, state, road and bridge committee to be held within the next ten days. The contracts of all the patrolmen last year have expired and new ones will be entered into at that time. Those engaged will be expected to attend the road school.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy and also for their floral offerings during our recent bereavement, the death of our baby daughter Gladys May.

(Signed) Mr. and Mrs. Chester Heinritz Adv.

CAN GET "TEMPORARY SON" FOR BANQUET

You don't need to be a father to go to the Father and Son banquet at any of the various churches next Monday evening. If you haven't a son over 10 years of age and you wish to attend, a "son" will be assigned to you by making application to Jack Payne, boys' work secretary at the Y. M. C. A.

It is expected that 300 fathers and sons will attend the banquets Monday night.

DUCKS ON WINNEBAGO PREY OF POT HUNTERS

Open water on Lake Winnebago at the Neenah branch of the Fox river seems to be about the only place at which ducks can congregate. Because they flock there in such great numbers, they have become easy prey for pot hunters, and it is said that men and boys armed with shot guns and rifles are killing them in open violation of both the state and federal laws. Residents near the lake shore have warned the hunters, and it is understood that state conservation and federal game wardens have been notified of the condition.

BARBERS TO QUIT WORK AT SIX FRIDAY NIGHTS

Beginning February 20, Appleton barbershops will close at 6 o'clock on Friday evenings. It was decided at a meeting of the Barbers' Union at Trades and Labor Council hall Monday night. Barbershops will be open after 6 o'clock on Wednesday and Saturday evenings after that date. Other important business was transacted at the meeting.

J. J. SHERMAN DISCUSSES THRIFT AT K. C. MEETING

John J. Sherman, president of Citizens' National bank, delivered a stirring address on thrift before the Kaukauna council of the Knights of Columbus last evening. Mr. Sherman asserted that if thrift is carefully practiced the high cost of living would not be nearly as serious as it is under present conditions. He gave some sound advice on investments and urged that the principles of thrift be carried out in every way possible.

Frank Mosch of Milwaukee, who has been critically ill with pneumonia, is improving daily and is now out of danger. He was a former Appleton resident and is still a member of the local court of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

OUT OF NAVY AFTER 19 MONTHS IN HOSPITAL

ROBERT GMEINER RETURNED TO HIS HOME HERE—WILL NOT BE ABLE TO WORK FOR MONTHS

After spending 19 months in naval hospital receiving treatment for injuries which he suffered when struck by an automobile at Cape Maine, N. J., Robert Gmeiner, son of Mrs. A. Gmeiner, 311 Richmond street, arrived at his home yesterday with an honorable discharge. The young man is not yet recovered and probably will not be able to work for several months. His injuries make it impossible for him to continue at his trade of steamfitter and it will be necessary for him to learn a new business.

Gmeiner suffered a compound fracture of both bones in his left leg. A companion who was injured at the same time recovered several months ago. Gmeiner was sent to various hospitals. He was discharged from League Island hospital at Philadelphia. He had been in the service for two years.

Gmeiner and another man were walking along a road near their camp when they were struck by a taxi, the driver of which was swerving from one side of the road to the other. The young men tried to dodge the machine but the driver swung into them.

MODERN ENOCH ARDEN GOES BACK TO ALASKA

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis—Joseph L. Link, modern Enoch Arden, planned to leave for Alaska today, from where he came with his pockets lined with gold.

Last night, Link talked over the details of his supposed death in 1911—with Julius Walters, who has taken Link's wife for his own. Mrs. Link—who "until" yesterday thought she was Mrs. Minnie Link Walters—sat by and listened. The story sounded exactly like Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," except that in the eyes of the law there enters the question of bigamy. And, certain insurance companies may seek redress.

All of this modern trio are old folks—gray haired. Walters is 70. Authorities today were trying to further identify the "J. L. Link" who was buried nine years ago instead of Joseph L. Link. And in the meantime, the modern Enoch Arden, after seeing his children, expected to go back to Alaska—never to return.

ROY JONES RETURNS TO WORK IN APPLETON

APPLETON MAN WHO SPENT MANY MONTHS IN LONDON WILL MANAGE JONES LUMBER CO.

Roy Jones, who had been representing a combination of about 25 Wisconsin and Michigan hardwood lumber dealers and manufacturers abroad, resigned his position and will return at once to Appleton to become manager and head of the sales department of the G. W. Jones Lumber company. His father, G. W. Jones, is president of the local company.

Mr. Jones will succeed H. J. Thorsen who resigned last week, probably to enter business for himself. Mrs. Jones will probably not return to Appleton to live until after their son finishes the year in a New York school.

Mr. Jones spent many months in London and other European cities taking care of the export trade of the combination which he represented. This combination has been changed somewhat in the last few months but is still in existence. Mr. Jones expects to arrive in Appleton Thursday and will take up his work here at once.

COUNTY BOARD CONVENTION POSTPONED UNTIL MARCH

The annual convention of the Wisconsin County Boards association which was to have been held at Fond du Lac February 12 and 13 has been postponed to March 4 and 5. This action is the result of the prevalence of influenza in Fond du Lac at the present time. It is announced that the program planned for the convention will not undergo any noticeable change for the March meeting.

KONZ COMPANY PLANS TO BROADEN ITS ACTIVITIES

The Konz Box and Lumber company is broadening the activities of its branch plant at Black Creek. For some time, the factory has engaged only in the manufacture of boxes. This feature will be continued as in the past, but in addition the company will also do planing and mill work. In the near future a feed grinding mill now being installed will also be in operation.

Fred Zindars of Oshkosh visited Appleton friends Monday.

KIMBERLY PREPARES FOR NEAR EAST DRIVE

NEIGHBORING VILLAGE WILL USE DEFENSE COUNCIL ORGANIZATION TO GO OVER THE TOP

Kimberly expects to surprise the county in the Near East Relief drive next week by more than going over the top and doing it quickly. The Council of Defense will utilize its organization and promotion power in this drive, but plans to leave it to the residents of Kimberly to do most of the contributing voluntarily.

In the absence of Stephen Stip, chairman of the defense council, Joseph R. Doerflinger will have active charge of the drive. One day next week will be set aside as "Volunteer day." At that time, every resident is expected to call at the headquarters and make a contribution.

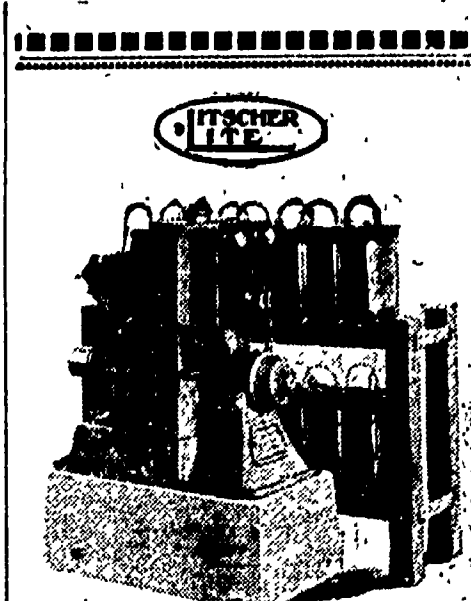

It is the plan of many local organizations to guarantee the support of one or more orphans. The cost of providing for one orphan is estimated at $60 for one year, and this may be no-rated for organizations that cannot assume that amount, or may be doubled to take care of larger contributions.

Practically all the committees will have held meetings before the week is over so that when the campaign opens next Sunday, the county will quickly go over the top.

THREE COUNTY SCHOOLS CLOSE BECAUSE OF FLU

A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, received notice this morning that school in district No. 1 joint, Black Creek, had been closed on account of flu. Two other schools were also closed this morning, No. 5 joint, Freedom, and No. 7, Center. The school in district No. 2, Black Creek, was opened this morning after having been closed for several days.

Dr. W. E. O'Keefe left for Milwaukee this afternoon where he will attend the Dental Clinic of Marquette University, for the next three days.

The Litscher Lite Plant is designed particularly for a farm by experts, who through long experience are thoroughly acquainted with conditions.

The Litscher Lite Plant runs on kerosene and gives 4 H. P. for belt driven purposes. It includes 130-280 Ampere Hour Batteries, 1 K. W. Generator, Modine Spirex Radiator and switch board, including Volt meter, Ammeter, Roostart, Main Switch and Hartman Automatic Cut-Out.

The Litscher Lite Company with its co-operative salesmen and advertising campaigns offers a wonderful opportunity for a live wire dealer in your locality.

IMPASSABLE ROADS ADD TO HORRORS OF "FLU" EPIDEMIC

DOCTORS DECLINE TO MAKE COUNTRY CALLS UNLESS ROADS ARE OPEN—MAY STOP MAIL SERVICE

Townships face damage suits, business suffers, the sick are in danger of being unaided, and rural mail delivery may be temporarily cut off from some sections.

This is the situation that actually exists now because some townships have not enforced the state road regulations. For nine weeks, deep pitch holes have been allowed to remain in the roads, and only a narrow middle track is kept open. Close to each side the snow is soft, and once a sleigh swerves from the hardened track, a tip-over results. The laws of Wisconsin plainly state that any injury or damage resulting from neglected roads where the condition remains so for more than three weeks, is chargeable directly to the township or unit of government in which the defect exists. It is perhaps fortunate that the frequent mishaps along the roads have not resulted that seriously as yet, but the county officials give warning that further neglect may prove costly to some townships. Just a day or two ago, a truck of the Standard Oil company tipped over on one of the highways, and in another instance, a hay press met the same fate. The loss of time in getting back on the highway is often considerable, to say nothing of what might happen to the driver in cases like this.

Merchants in Appleton have noticed a decided slump in the farm trade and attribute it to the fact that impassable roads keep the rural residents at home.

Most serious of all, perhaps, is the fact that physicians have been unable to reach patients, especially where so many are sick throughout different sections of the county. It is reported that one doctor driving from Appleton on an urgent call was thrown from his cutter three times before he reached his destination. Some doctors who discussed the matter of bad roads state they have refused to make calls in the country until they know they can get through without difficulty. The delay caused by slow travel and by the long waits at occasional passing points causes suffering. With the influenza epidemic raging on all sides, haste is essential to every doctor, who usually has more calls than he can conveniently handle.

The rural mail carriers are trying to make delivery to every home on their routes, but the delay they experience makes it difficult to give regular daily service in sections that are not kept open. They have threatened to cut out some sections until conditions are remedied, but are hoping that action will be taken that will make this step unnecessary.

All this is true because there are farmers who do not realize what it means to public welfare to have a road plowed out. Some have gotten out with men and teams and worked industriously until their roads are in the best of condition. Others, perhaps the next neighbor has done nothing. The result is that continuous stretches of open highway are scarce. As previously noted in The Post-Crescent, several townships are completely taken care of with respect to highways, and they are heartily commended by the drivers who enjoy the use of these roads.

The laws provide that the township is responsible for keeping its highways free from snow. The county road commissioner has had no funds for assisting in this work, and it is therefore up to the town chairmen to order the fixing of every road within their domain, the regulation state.

It's All Money
The Nation's Business: Many American coins rarely if ever seen in circulation are still officially outstanding in substantial quantities. Among these are $40,000 worth of copper cent pieces made in the early days of the country, more than $500,000 worth of 2-cent pieces, and $655,000 worth of 3-cent pieces. They are still of full face value—and sometimes more to coin collectors.

Many trade dollars—of the variety issued some forty years ago in a futile attempt to compete in the Orient with the far-famed Mexican silver dollar—have never come back. They were not of legal tender for more than $5, though when abandoned, a reasonable time was given for exchanging them for standard silver dollars. Those still extant are of only bullion value, except perhaps to collectors.

Likewise a substantial amount of paper money is still officially rated as "outstanding," but is never expected to return for redemption. It is estimated that 1 per cent of all paper money is lost or destroyed, and when such happens the government profits. This is the case even with national bank notes.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and grassless) and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Spanish Influenza Epidemic Grows

Many Cases Develop Into Deadly Pneumonia—Easier to Prevent. Easier to Prevent Than Cure. How to Avoid The Constant Daily Increase of Spanish Influenza reported by physicians shows clearly that many people are failing to take the simple ordinary precautions necessary to avoid infection. For while influenza, after its development, is sometimes difficult to cure, it is an easily preventable disease.

The best plan is to begin treatment before the first symptoms start. For no other disease will develop so quickly or spread so rapidly. You may feel fine today—be sick tomorrow and lose a week or more of work. You will indeed be fortunate if pneumonia does not develop.

The air today is full of influenza germs. Every breath you take is likely to draw them into your nose and throat. You can prevent the disease by killing the germs before they spread throughout your body. There is probably no safer or surer way to do this than to go to the nearest drug store and get one of the famous Hyomei Inhaler Outfits consisting of a bottle of the pure Oil of Hyomei and a little vest-pocket, hard rubber inhaler device into which a few drops of the Oil of Hyomei are poured.

Just breathe this Oil of Hyomei deep into your nose, throat and lungs and every particle of air that enters your breathing organs will be charged with an antiseptic germ killing balsam that will destroy the germs that have found lodging there.

You can't do this too often. No ordinary night and morning gargling or throat spraying will be sufficient so long as during the day you come in constant contact with infection. The Hyomei Inhaler is small and can be conveniently carried in a handbag or vest-pocket. Every half hour or so throughout the day take it out and draw a few breaths of its pure healing air into your nose and throat. By doing this you can prevent infection and check the further spread of the disease even though you are coming in direct contact with it. This is an inexpensive treatment as the Inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of the Oil of Hyomei can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

NOTE: Oil of Hyomei, so strongly recommended above for the prevention of Spanish Influenza is not a new discovery but is the application of an old and time-tried treatment to a new disease. Hyomei has been a standard in the treatment of catarrh and colds for over twenty years and is sold by druggists everywhere. Hundreds of people in Appleton and vicinity keep a Hyomei Outfit with Inhaler on the bathroom shelf for regular winter use. If you have one, get it out now and use it. If you haven't one, go to the nearest drug store and get one today. It is the duty of every person, not only for his own sake but for the community to do all in his power to prevent further spread of this epidemic and to stamp it out.

Holland Knows 'Em
Cleveland Plain Dealer: Holland has long been known as a cautious and canny nation. During the world war the Dutch managed to remain neutral, though it was a difficult task. For four years they guarded their frontiers. Now they have taken to guarding the frontiers again, though there is no war. They are guarding again a danger which menaces every democracy of the world, and they are doing their work with characteristic Dutch thoroughness. Not a man or woman can enter Holland until an intelligent official at the frontier is convinced that the entrant is utterly devoid of bolshevist taint. Anyone who is even mildly suspected is commanded to turn back. Holland is too overworked to make room for Reds. To keep out undesirable foreigners is wise and proper. Holland is going a step further in the same direction. Like all other nations of Europe, Holland has her own quota of red or reddish undesirables. Some of these have wandered out of Holland, either bent on missionary work or merely traveling for business or pleasure. Now they cannot get back. The Dutch government feels that the country is well rid of this gentry, and grimly smiles when it listens to them hammering on closed barriers. If any nation can keep out bolshevism that nation seems to be Holland. Such efforts cannot be fruitless. They should command the attention and respect of other nations, including the United States of America, which have pallied too long in their dealing with the enemies of democracy and of society.

BETWEEN APPLETON AND MENASHA

BROTHERLY LOVE IS WAR'S RESULT

SO SAYS LORD NORTHLIFFE AND PREDICTS THAT SOCIAL PROGRESS WILL FOLLOW

By Frank W. Rostock
Special to Post-Crescent
London.—Lord Northcliffe, publisher of several of England's great newspapers, is a blunt, plain-spoken man. He is a close student of current history, knows as much, if not more about the social and industrial development of his country than any other man, and as for politics, is so well versed in every phase of every development that politicians always consider the Northcliffe angle before committing themselves.

Therefore it was not surprising, when England wanted a man to direct its war propaganda in enemy countries, it selected Northcliffe to do the job.

That he did a good job, no one can deny. Hundreds of Germans told me during my visit in that country, that the Northcliffe-prepared propaganda was one of the biggest factors in bringing the war to a close and causing the defeat of Germany.

"If Germany had had Northcliffe as its chief propagandist during the war, Germany would have won," said the crown prince to me when I visited him in Wieringen recently.

And here is the reply Northcliffe made to the compliment:

"I agree with him to the extent that I believe Germany would have had a better chance, if I had been handling her propaganda. For in that case, the crown prince wouldn't have held the job he did—and that would have helped Germany's cause a whole lot."

"What has been the most interesting result of the war?" I asked Northcliffe, after he had welcomed me to his office in Printing House Square. "It has made men think," he answered instantly and emphatically. "The doctrine of democracy, which was preached during the war, has had its effect."

"It is resulting in a process of equalization. The lessons of brotherly love men learned in the camps and in the trenches are beginning to show their effects."

"Social progress follows in the wake of knowledge. When the average man learns how to think nothing can keep him from improving his position."

"Men are getting better acquainted. They are beginning to understand each other better. There is a closer bond of sympathy and that is going to make for world progress."

NEW PHONOGRAPH ROOM TO BE OPENED SOON

F. J. Lossa of Oshkosh arrived in Appleton yesterday morning to take charge of the new Pathe phonograph department of Schlitz Brothers drug store, which will be opened soon. A large room on the second floor is being remodeled for this purpose. Mr. Lossa was with the Wilson Music company of Oshkosh up to the time of his departure for Appleton. He left last evening for Chicago, where he will spend a week in arranging for equipment for the phonograph room.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. ## NEW SAVING PLAN IS ADOPTED BY UNCLE SAM

LOCAL POSTMASTER IS ADVISED OF ISSUANCE OF TREASURY CERTIFICATES TO AID THRIFT.

Continue your thrift, says Uncle Sam. Gustave Keller, postmaster, received announcement today of the issue of a new government security for investors, the "Treasury Savings Certificate."

Issued in denominations of $100 and $1,000, and bearing interest at 4.27 per cent, these certificates present a sound investment. If they are redeemed before maturity, January 1, 1925, accrued interest at the rate of three per cent is paid on them. Among the advantages outlined in the literature received are that they cannot depreciate in value, are always worth more than paid for them, and they are registered in the name of the purchaser, which assures protection against loss, fire or theft, a feature which bonds and war savings stamps do not possess.

For those who cannot buy a certificate outright, an installment plan is provided. An order may be placed with the postmaster for a certificate, and then war savings stamps may be purchased at the rate of two months for ten months. These may be turned in and a certificate delivered to the purchaser.

It is said by bankers and business men that the wage-earner is the people that the new offering of the government is meeting with popular approval. A tin pail on the gravel near Cornett Traeniers-house at Palms, Mich., reflected the sun's rays against the house. The wood presently began to smoke and then there was a blaze.

ROTARY CLUB TAKES ACTIVE INTEREST IN BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

ADVISORY COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT MEETING YESTERDAY—WILL NAME SCOUT EXECUTIVE

Eight boy scouts were the guests of the Rotary club at their meeting Monday noon at the Y. M. C. A. They gave a most interesting demonstration of scout training under the direction of Leigh Hooley, scout master, showing wig wag signaling, first aid, bandaging and wireless.

The interest aroused caused the club to instruct its Boy's Work Committee to arrange a general meeting of all local organizations, fraternal, educational, religious and commercial, to discuss a plan whereby Appleton may have a scout advisory council similar to that of neighboring cities. W. L. Davidson of Milwaukee, chief scout executive for Wisconsin, was present and explained fully how such an organization could be perfected, and how it would operate.

The plan of the club is to secure a group of 20 or 30 men representing different organizations, who will organize and sponsor the scout movement in Appleton. They will be an advisory board which will employ a scout executive to devote his whole time to developing the boy scout movement locally. He in turn will have supervision over the scout masters of the different troops. This is being successfully carried out in Oshkosh, Sheboygan, La Crosse, Racine, Kenosha and other cities in Appleton's class, and it is felt that Appleton should get in line and make the scout movement a city-wide affair, financed and guided by local men.

That the boys are interested in the movement is shown by the fact that the present voluntary organization under the leadership of Leigh Hooley has 125 members, and there are other smaller troops in different parts of the city. The Rotary club's action is supplying the initiative needed to find a parent organization for the present scout corps, and any further promotion needed will be taken up when their committee reports.

HEART DISEASE IS TAKING HEAVY TOLL

NEW YORK DOCTOR ASSERTS THAT DEATHS FROM HEART DISEASE ARE GROWING RAPIDLY

(By Lorry Jacobs.)
NEW YORK.—Heart disease—not tuberculosis—is becoming the great destroyer, the growing menace to humanity.

The startling growth of the disease has just been pointed out by Dr. S. D. Hubbard, director of public health education of New York City, and in pointing out the alarming increase of deaths from that cause, he makes a plea for more and more attention to be paid by everyone to the things most responsible for it.

Figures obtained by Dr. Hubbard show that more people died in New York City in 1919 from heart disease than did from tuberculosis, but 7936 deaths being reported from the white plague while 19,149 died from heart disease. The increase is easily shown by an examination of the figures for 1899 when 8015 died from tuberculosis and but 3751 from heart disease.

The alarming thing about these figures is the fact that tuberculosis is a communicable disease, while heart disease is chiefly the result of individual methods of life.

And the chief causes, according to Dr. Hubbard are: long and irregular hours of work, improper food and improper methods of eating.

"There is a lamentable lack of care taken about eating

GOVERNMENT WILL LOSE MILLIONS IN OIL TO RAILWAY CO.

DECISION OF PALMER GIVES INTERESTING FACTS IN DETAILS

(Special to Post-Crescent.) Washington—One hundred and six million acres of valuable oil lands will go to the Southern Pacific railroad by default of action on the part of Attorney General Palmer.

The oil lands in question include some of the most valuable fields in the United States. Included in them are 18,000 acres of U. S. navy petroleum reserves.

Attorney General Palmer has announced that he will not appeal from a decision adverse to the government of the District Court at Los Angeles, rendered August 29, 1919, in a government suit to recover these lands from the Southern Pacific. They are declared to be worth $500,000,000. The morning after the decision was announced, Southern Pacific stock jumped 14 points on the New York Exchange.

Palmer's decision not to appeal is in spite of the fact that a previous case—the so-called Elk Hills case—against the Southern Pacific—previously decided against the government in the lower courts, was decided in favor of the government in the Supreme Court on November 17, 1919. The district judge, in the decision of the case now being dropped by Palmer, said that it was parallel to the Elk Hills case. It was assumed that Palmer would appeal the pending case as a matter of course.

The original land grant to the Southern Pacific Railroad excluded oil land. It was on the basis of this grant that the government sought to recover possession of these lands.

The attorney general alleges that the case is weak and if appealed cannot be won. The case was conducted under direction of former Attorney General Gregory.

The decision against the Southern Pacific in the Elk Hills case was a clear-cut victory for the government. It applied to only about 6,000 acres of land, but it was widely accepted even by the Southern Pacific attorney, as presaging another victory for the government as to the much more extensive and valuable lands which Palmer now proposes to abandon to the railroad.

The 18,000 acres of navy petroleum reserves contained in the lands now in question are part of the navy's insurance against possible exhaustion of commercial oil. Secretary Daniels has repeatedly declared these reserves are absolutely essential to the navy's future security. England is spending large sums to secure her navy in various parts of the world an adequate oil supply.

One month remains in which Attorney General Palmer could act by filing an appeal.

In behalf of the National Conservation Association, Clifford Pinchot has appealed to President Wilson to overrule the attorney general and order the case appealed for decision to the Supreme Court.

In a letter just forwarded to the White House, Pinchot says: "Mr. Palmer alleges that the case is weak, and if appealed cannot be won. Whether right or wrong, his opinion is of little import and beside the point. In a matter of so much moment to the public interest it is his obvious duty to appeal the case and never to admit defeat until the Supreme Court has spoken. The Supreme Court, which alone has final authority, is the only tribunal whose decision against the government can rightly be accepted and allowed to stand."

"What good can come from dropping this case except to private interests which will thus secure without further contest what the law specifically provided they should never get? What can be lost by appealing the case?"

"Mr. Palmer's course is clearly unfounded to his public duty."

"By his dereliction only four weeks remain of the six months within which he could perfect the appeal. Every moment is precious if a good fight for the public interest is still to be made."

Traveling Library at Sunny Hill Schoolhouse

Sunny Hill school at Twelve Corners has received a collection of books from the Wisconsin Library commission. They constitute a wide choice of reading matter and every resident of the community is entitled to draw them free of charge. ## NEW YORK SOCIETY AGOG OVER FOREIGN BRIDES

MRS. ROBERT GOELET

AMY SPARKS

New York—New York society has been stirred this season by the marriage of Robert Goelet, multimillionaire, to the former Princess Kloubchinsky, widow of a wealthy Russian resident of Paris. Mrs. Goelet recently arrived in America. By her marriage to Robert Goelet she has assumed a high social position in New York. Her former husband was a Russian government official.

Another bride from across the sea is expected to enter New York society circles soon. The engagement of Miss Amy Sparks, daughter of Sir Ashley and Lady Sparks of London, to Van Duzer Burton, son of Frank J. Burton of New York, has been announced. Sir Ashley Sparks, managing director of the Cunard Steamship Line, last March was created a Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire, with the title of Sir.

Miss Sparks is a debutante of this season. Mr. Burton has recently returned from three years' service as a lieutenant in the French artillery.

FLU FAILS TO KEEP BAND FROM WEEKLY REHEARSALS

Those little germs floating around are not causing members of the Ninth Regimental band to scoot to cover. Despite the fact that Lieut. F. H. Jebe, director, has been empowered by the adjutant general to call off all rehearsals during the flu epidemic, the band is continuing preparation for the third concert of the winter series at Lawrence Memorial chapel Monday night.

A regular rehearsal was held at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the band rooms. The concert Monday night promises to be even better than the second program. Lieut. Jebe announces that several prominent musicians who are planning to locate permanently in Appleton will be here to play with the band for the next concert.

THREE YEARS' SENTENCE FOR LIQUOR ROBBERY

Milwaukee—Walter Damske, saloonkeeper, today was sentenced to three years in prison in connection with robbery of liquor warehouses here. Joseph Reith, 22, out on parole following conviction of larceny, was given three years, and his two alleged pals, Arthur Otselberger, 26, and Arnold Nolte, 23, were given one year each. The charges were that Damske purchased over $3,000 worth of liquor stolen by the other three men from three warehouses here some months ago.

RATS DESTROY MUCH FOOD AT RHINELANDER

Rhineland—That a horde of rats infesting warehouses and other buildings in this city is destroying large quantities of food, is the statement made by deputy food inspector, G. A. Servis of Algoma. Citizens are aroused by the report and the Rhineland Advancement association has called a meeting to determine some course of action in ridding the city of the pests.

SCHOOL BOARD MEN WILL BE ELECTED

Rhineland—Members of the Rhineland school board, who have heretofore been appointed by the mayor, may be forced to run for office in the future. A resolution calling for a special election to be held February 24 to determine whether or not the board will be appointed was introduced by Alderman P. J. Christ, labor leader, at the last session of the council and was passed.

CONDENSED MILK PRICE CUT TWO CENTS A CAN

SHOE COMPANY WILL DOUBLE PLANT SIZE

Shelbygan—The Leverenz Shoe company has made plans to double the size of its plant by erecting an addition that will give 142,999 feet of additional floor space. It is expected to increase the working force from 110 to 200 men and the daily output from 500 to 1500 pairs of men's shoes. When the factory commenced operations April 1, 1919, it produced 24 pairs of shoes the first day.

INTERLAKERS WIN FROM WRIGHTSTOWN

DOWN RIVER TEAM GIVES LOCALS A SCARE IN FIRST HALF BUT ARE SMOTHERED IN SECOND

The interlakers of this city wallowed the Wrightstown basketball team at the armory Saturday evening by a score of 46 to 25. The first half had plenty of ups and downs. Wrightstown led off with 12 points and the end of the first half found the two teams tied, 15 to 15. Persistent good playing on the part of the interlakers broke the tie and the remainder of the game was a walkaway. Art Rock, of the winning five, has 12 field baskets to his credit as part of the program that left the neighboring aggregation in the shade.

Wednesday night the interlakers will try to give Company B of Oshkosh a similar whipping in a game scheduled for the armory here. The Sawdust city has an exceptional team, but the confidence of the local team runs high just about now.

TAX EXPERT HERE TO AID IN FILING OUT REPORTS

J. J. Kennelly, Milwaukee, established office in City Hall—All Reports Must Be Filed by March 15

J. J. Kennelly, deputy collector of internal revenue from the Milwaukee office, arrived here Monday. He has opened headquarters at the city hall, and will be here all week to advise individuals regarding the making out of federal income tax blanks. His hours will be from 8:30 to five o'clock.

Mr. Kennelly states that the last date for filing returns is March 15. All single persons earning $1,000 or more, and all married men earning $2,000 or more, must file a return. If no blank is received it is up to each person to procure one at his office. He urges firms to notify all employees subject to tax to make out their returns promptly. He will be in Kaukauna next week.

300 FATHERS AND SONS EXPECTED AT BANQUETS

Committees in Charge of Banquets Are Completing Arrangements—Week to Be Nationally Observed

Father and Son week will be observed all over the nation February 18 to 22. In Appleton, instead of the central banquet at the Y. M. C. A. it has been planned this year to hold individual banquets in the various churches, to be held at 6:45 o'clock next Monday evening.

The executive committee in charge of plans at the Methodist church is composed of R. A. Buxton, H. F.

Formöhlen, and E. H. Jennings. At the Presbyterian church W. S. Smith, C. S. Little, and G. F. Werner are the committee in charge. George Wettenhol is chairman of the executive committee at the Congregational church. It is expected that 300 pairs of fathers and sons will sit down together at the various dinners next Monday night. A splendid program is being arranged by the committees.

CANARIES, HARBINGERS OF SPRING, ARE HERE

It's not enough to antedate the old faithful horse nowadays. Even such a little thing as a robin is catching it. Out in the town of Center, he has lost his prestige as a criterion of an early spring. C. W. Schroeder, and Frank Luedtke will raise their right hands and swear that they saw two bright yellow canaries Saturday. Their appearance seemed peculiar, but they investigated closely to make sure that they were of the famed household bird family. Robins give a lot of encouragement for the quick departure of old King Winter, but when canary birds sit from tree to tree, the potatoes, at least in Center, will probably be planted late in March.

Concerning Epidemics

In Epidemics the germ fastens most readily on fruitful soil—a system that is in poor condition.

Stoppage of food waste, and the resulting decay, generates poisons which are absorbed by the blood, lowering its power of resistance to withstand the attack of outside germs such as influenza.

In plain terms, constipation encourages Epidemics.

If you keep your intestinal passage clear and functioning regularly to get rid of this waste, your system will be kept in good condition to successfully cope with disease germs to which you may be exposed.

That is what the Nujol Treatment does—without straining, and without drawing on the vitality of other parts of the body, as do other forms of treatment.

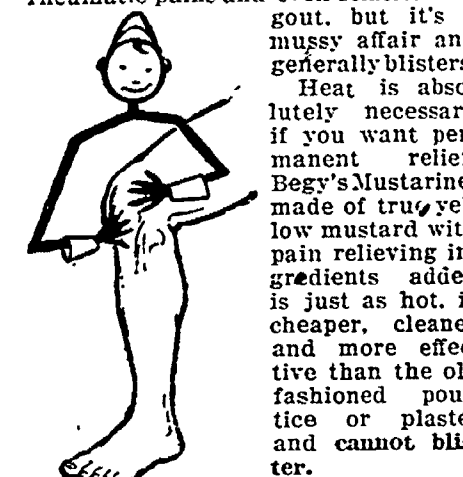

In plain terms, Nujol discourages constipation and its dangerous consequences.

Keep your body clean inside with the Nujol Treatment. It is the best possible Sickness Prevention.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Beware of products represented to be "the same as Nujol." You may suffer from substitutes. Address Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for valuable health booklet, free, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

Yellow Mustard For Rheumatism

A good hot mustard plaster or poultice is pretty sure to overcome most rheumatic pains and even sciatica and gout, but it's a messy affair and generally blisters.

Heat is absolutely necessary if you want permanent relief. Begy's Mustard, made of truly yellow mustard with pain relieving ingredients added is just as hot, is cheaper, cleaner and more effective than the old fashioned poultice or plaster and cannot blister.

Besides rheumatic pains and swellings Begy's Mustard is speedily effective for lumbago, backache, neuritis, pleurisy, bronchitis, sore throat, chest colds and all aches and pains because heat eases pain—30 and 60 cents at drugists or by mail. S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

CARDINAL MERCIER GRATEFUL TO THE U. S. FOR ITS HELP

HEROIC PRELATE OF BELGIUM
ADMIRES BIGNESS OF AMERICAN HEARTS. HE TELLS A VISITOR

(By Frank W. Rostock.)
MALINES, France.—Since his return from the United States, Cardinal Mercier, Archbishop of Malines, has applied himself energetically to the task of the industrial reconstruction as well as promoting the spiritual progress of Belgium. He paused long enough when I visited him to send the following message of gratitude to the American people for the enthusiastic reception he received during his tour of the states:

"You ask me whether, now that I am come home, I can give you any message for the American people, with regard to my journey through the states.

"Let me take up my first words on landing: I then said, 'I have come to see the people, to bring them a message of admiration and gratitude. These messages I delivered wherever I went and to the best of my ability. And I think my first object has also been achieved: I have seen the People, and I use the word 'see' in the sense in which we use it spiritually, meaning to know and to love.

"I know the American people, and so their dominant characteristic of open-hearted frank spontaneity, has impressed me and gone to my heart. It is to this fact that I attribute the current of genuine sympathy which immediately flowed from them to me and back again.

I met the cardinal in the room of the archbishopdom where he received and answered the notes of General Von Bissing, when that iron-fisted invader was in command with his headquarters at Brussels. It was here that Cardinal Mercier penned the replies which will live in history.

But now Cardinal Mercier is busying himself with thoughts of peace and progress. The end of the war brought to him many problems.

"I am always glad to meet an American," he said, as he welcomed me into his study. "I learned to love America and Americans during my tour of your wonderful country. I hope to be able to visit your country again."

The cardinal was not the same tired-looking man so many Americans met at the close of his American tour. Then, his tall form was noticeably bent with fatigue. Today he stands erect. The lines which told of physical weariness have disappeared from his face.

"I have traveled much and in many lands," said Cardinal Mercier. "I have met many people and made many friends. But in all my travels I never felt more at home than I did in your country."

"I admire the bigness of America and its people. I do not mean the physical bigness of your country—its great cities, its great buildings, but the bigness of heart and the bigness of mind and purpose."

There was a touch of sadness in the voice of the cardinal as he discussed the future of the Belgian people. Belgium has made tremendous strides in the matter of industrial reconstruction, but some institutions have made little progress.

Many of the churches in the archbishop's diocese are in a state of bankruptcy. Technical schools in which boys are taught trades are in a sad state.

I visited one of these schools in Malines, where hundreds of boys are being taught carpentry, cabinet-making, wood-carving and metal trades. This school lacks tools, it lacks seasoned wood and, above all, properly lighted rooms.

FLETCHER IN ACCORD WITH FALL PLANS FOR BREAK WITH MEXICO

SENATOR FALL TELLS HOW RESOLUTION WITHDRAWING RECOGNITION WAS FRAMED

(By Chester M. Wright.)

WASHINGTON.—Acceptance of the resignation of former Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, to Mexico, is the fruit of his attempt to help Senator Fall bring about war with Mexico.

This is revealed through an interim report made to the subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs by Senator Albert B. Fall, detailing his own work in examining Mexican affairs, the manner in which the resolution requesting withdrawal of recognition of Mexico was introduced in the Senate has become known.

This resolution was introduced by Fall during the height of the oil propagandists' drive for intervention based on the Jenkins controversy. At that time it was thought by the interventionists that President Wilson was too ill to interfere with the scheme to sever diplomatic relations.

Ambassador Fletcher, who had not been at his post in Mexico City for some months, is in contact with the Fall report to have been in full accord with the plan to withdraw American recognition of the Mexican government.

Senator Fall's report relates lack of electric light was responsible. The cardinal is planning money to build a newer and larger school in Malines and other Belgian cities.

In the reception hall at the cardinal's home I met Marguerite Boylan of Columbus, O., a worker in the National Catholic War Council of the United States. Miss Boylan is engaged in making surveys. The council has opened community houses in the devastated districts and also in the smaller places, like Roulers, and Staden, where the iron fist of the Germans fell heavily, a great work is being done. Many families still live in the cellars of their old homes, while the work of rebuilding goes on. They obtain food and recreation at the community houses.

At Liege, the first Belgian city to be rocked by the thunder of the great siege guns of the Germans, older girls are being taught to do their share in the work of Belgian reconstruction.

It is in cities like Liege that technical schools, such as planned by the cardinal, are most needed.

that telegrams reaching him in El Paso urged his immediate return to Washington and that he arrived in the capital on Dec. 1, 1919, proceeding immediately from the station to Secretary Lansing's office.

"While no definite, specific conclusion was reached at this conference as to the details of immediate, specific action, the steps thought necessary by both the secretary and myself to be taken concerning the various very important matters of dispute with Mexico were very thoroughly discussed and, I am happy to say, with no difference of opinion.

"It was understood," Senator Fall continues, "that possibly one or more resolutions concerning Mexico might be introduced in the Senate by senators other than members of your subcommittee, unless the committee itself, or some member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, introduced some resolution with reference to Mexico."

At this point Senator Fall, who is believed by a great many persons to be an apostle of forceful dealing with Mexico, though he denies being an interventionist, describes the manner in which the famous resolution was framed.

"It was decided that the secretary of state should name a representative from his department to represent in close and continuous contact with myself, as representing the Senate, through the chairmanship of the subcommittee of the Committee on Foreign Relations dealing with Mexican affairs.

"On the next morning a message by telephone from the secretary of state, notified my office that Ambassador Fletcher had been designated by the secretary to represent his department and to consult with, and be in continuous touch with your subcommittee and its chairman.

"I at once telephoned to Ambassador Fletcher, asking him to come to my office in the Senate office building immediately, which he did. Upon his arrival there, I handed him for his consideration a draft of two proposed concurrent resolutions to be offered by myself and, after consultation, we agreed upon the resolution to be so offered, which is in words and figures as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), that the action taken by the Department of State in reference to the pending controversy between this government and the government of Mexico should be approved; and, further, that he president of the United States be, and he is, hereby requested to withdraw from Venustiano Carranza the recognition heretofore accorded him by the United States as president of the Republic of Mexico and to sever all diplomatic relations now existing between this government and the pretended government of Carranza."

"In company with Ambassador Fletcher I proceeded immediately to the Senate chamber, while the ambassador proceeded to the diplomatic gallery thereof. I offered the resolution and the same was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations."

How far the State Department itself had agreed to the course followed by Ambassador Fletcher is not known. It is, however, revealed in Senator Fall's report that as soon as the Committee on Foreign Relations was summoned to consider the resolution Ambassador Fletcher appeared before it and, to quote Senator Fall, "announced that at the request of the secretary of state he desired to say that the latter would prefer that the resolution be separated and the first portion endorsing his action in the pending controversy, be adopted immediately, and that action upon the remaining portion be deferred."

It is set forth that Mr. Lansing himself appeared after a recess and reiterated the request in "a somewhat extended statement."

It is now being remarked by those who watch the Mexican situation that the attitude of Fletcher changed after his return from his post in Mexico City. It is pointed out that upon his return he seemed most hopeful. Senator Fall points out that there was harmony between himself and the former ambassador and Senator Fall is not customarily classed among those who are hopeful concerning Mexico.

CHEAPER TO BUY SHIPMENT OF WOOD THAN TO MOVE IT

Railroad Equipment Owned by Lumber Company is Needed Elsewhere and Settler is Unable to Ship His Goods

(Special to Post-Crescent)

MADISON, Wis.—It was cheaper for the Marathon County Railway Company, which operates a short lumber road from Stratford to Halder, 12 miles, to purchase 25 carloads of wood and bark to move it out to a connecting line.

That was the solution of a complaint filed with the Railroad Commission by F. H. Schneider, Wausau, and he sold the wood and bark to the railroad company in settlement of the case.

The Marathon County Railroad Company is practically owned by the R. Connor Lumber Company and was constructed to handle its logging business. Under the Wisconsin Railroad laws, however, it became a public utility, a common carrier, but for several months its entire rolling stock, consisting of one engine and a few cars, were used on another spur on the same company.

Schneider, in clearing some land hauled about 25 carloads of wood and bark to the railroad and asked for cars to ship it to the market. Some cars might have been provided but the engine was needed elsewhere and fearing the wood would be left until spring when he would have difficulty in finding a market, or that it would not be there to rot, he filed a complaint with the Commission.

A hearing was held in Wausau last week. Schneider stated his side of the case and the representative of the railroad company was asked for an explanation. He said the company was using its engine elsewhere but that it expected to get another engine by spring, when the wood would be moved.

"But there will be no market for it then," declared Schneider.

The railroad magnate then asked what the wood was worth and when told agreed to purchase it rather than to have to bring the engine down there at the present time. This was agreeable to the complainant and the Railroad Commission and another of the hundreds of minor cases coming before the Commission was amicably settled.

Recovered Coin After Fifty Years.

Fifty years ago when the foundations were being laid for the Washington statue in front of independence hall in Philadelphia, John Nash, then a policeman, threw a 2 cent piece into the hole being dug for the foundations. Recently when some changes were being made to the statue, Nash recalled the incident and stirred up the dirt and uncovered the coin. It will be hung in Independence hall. Incidentally, Mr. Nash recalled that 2 cents had a buying capacity at that time treble that of today.

ATTENTION, CHEESE FACTORY PATRONS

The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation will be held at Turner Opera House, in the city of Plymouth on Saturday, February 14th, at 10 o'clock A. M. Every cheese producer's association should be represented at this meeting by its president, vice-president or secretary.

The stock holders' meeting will be held at 10 A. M. sharp on that day. At 1 P. M. all cheese factory patrons, members of the Federation, also any cheese factory patrons, not members, are invited to attend.

Good speakers will be in attendance. The Economics Department of the University of Wisconsin, together with an expert from the Marketing Commission, has made a thorough investigation of how this business is run and they will render their report at the annual meeting, which, no doubt, will be interesting.

Any farmer or cheesemaker having any criticism to offer will be given a hearing. We invite honest criticism.

KAUKAUNA FATHERS AND SONS TO FEAST AT THE AUDITORIUM

FATHER AND SON WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN ELECTRIC CITY—HIGH SCHOOL TEAM LOSES.

Kaukauna.—The biggest game of the season will be played here tonight when the Green Bay Turners meet the Fox club at the auditorium.

The Turners have one of the leading teams in the state, and a victory for the Foxes will put them in the front rank. The locals have been working with an abundance of pep the last week, and promise to give the visitors a real battle. A previous contest at Green Bay was a win for the Turners.

Hayes, Hiss, Schroeder, Spindler and Brownell will all be in the line-up for the Foxes.

Father and Son Week. Observed nationally during the week of February 16 to 22, will be celebrated in Kaukauna with a banquet at the auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 17.

About one hundred Kaukauna dads and their sons are expected to attend the banquet, which will be followed by an excellent program. Details have not been completed.

"Father and Son" week aims to promote a better spirit of comradeship and understanding between the boy and his dad, to help each to help the other.

Valentine Party. The annual dancing and Valentine party given by the Elks, who held Friday evening at Elk hall. The party is an invitation affair. Mills orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

Love Again to Hilbert. Kaukauna highs atoned for their recent 76 to 4 drubbing at the hands of Hilbert by holding the same quintet to a 28 to 27 score at the auditorium Friday night.

The locals were out for revenge, and but for some tough luck with the basket might have emerged victorious. The contest was fast and close throughout, only a few points separating the two teams at all times.

Defeat Appleton Bowlers. Kaukauna bowling team representing the Hilgenberg alleys, defeated Behnke and Jense of Appleton in a match game at Kaukauna Sunday afternoon by 95 pins. The local five rolled better than 2,500.

All the local teams are getting in trim for the state tourney at Manitowoc February 18, Monday night. The locals rolled at Appleton. Several other match games will be bowled during the week.

Little Chute Dance. A number of Kaukauna people attended the dancing party at Lam's hall, Little Chute, Monday evening. A local orchestra furnished music.

Meet at Appleton. An important meeting of the Barbers' union was held at Appleton, Monday night. Jack Wendt of this city, attended the meeting.

Attend Bar Mitzvah. Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldin and son Ben of Kaukauna, attended the Bar Mitzvah party given by Mr. and Mrs. I. Bahcall of Appleton, at Odd Fellows hall Sunday afternoon. A dance was given by the Zionist society in the evening.

The Stage

Mabel Garrison. The concert to be given by Mabel Garrison this evening at 8:20 o'clock in the Lawrence Memorial Chapel is the sixth number on the Appleton Community Lecture and Artists Series. This is indeed one of the highest quality numbers which the management has booked for the citizens of the Fox River Valley. Those who have heard Mabel Garrison cannot find words to express their opinion of her voice. Others have spoken thus: "Miss Garrison attained to heights of artistic excellence which were little short of amazing. Here is a marvelous voice of crystalline purity that soared above the orchestra, sparkling with brilliancy; it has a wealth of velvety smoothness and exquisite tone color."

Fanchon-Marco Revue. The celebrated Fanchon-Marco Revue, Let's Go! which held forth in San Francisco for ten capacity weeks, is scheduled for an engagement of one night, February 12 at the Appleton Theatre. This remarkable parcel of merriment is quite the gayest and frothiest entertainment that has been given in the village in several seasons, and it is certain to appeal to local theatregoers if snappy comedy, jilting music, bizarre and artistic costuming and elaborate scenic effects, coupled with the "thirty most beautiful girls in the world" are desired. The organization is headed by the inimitable Fanchon and Marco themselves, whose terpsichorean skill is famous all over the United States.

WOMEN PAY FOR NAMES! Hence the High Cost of Buying Clothes, Says Elaine Hammerstein, Movie Star

New York.—Do women pay more than they should for clothes largely because they buy names? Elaine Hammerstein, screen star, who has a faculty of looking well even the most inexpensive of clothes, says that there are plenty of clothes to be bought for reasonable prices, but that the majority of women insist on getting their clothes at smart shops and for that reason pay more than they want to and should.

And just to prove it she actually took a shopping tour with Olive Thomas to prove that she is right. As a result, she found the following prices at the smaller and not fashionable shops of New York:

1 winter suit	$35.00
1 spring suit	30.00
5 everyday blouses	15.00
1 dress blouse	5.00
3 hats	20.00
4 pairs shoes	20.00
2 petticoats	3.50

MUST NOT REMOVE CARDS FROM QUARANTINED HOMES

Health Officer Warns That Placards Must Be Left Up Until Removed By His Department

"No placards should be removed from the home without the authority of the health officer," Dr. Ellsworth stated Monday. "Offenders are liable to a heavy fine under the law."

Removal of the placards without authority must cease, the health officer stated, regardless of the fact that the patients have been assured of their recovery by a physician. The placards will be removed by the health department.

Dr. Ellsworth again emphasized the ban on dancing which went into effect Monday. "When I say dances, I mean ALL dances," he said.

FORMER KAUKAUNA PRIEST IS DEAD AT MANITOWOC

Announcement has been received here of the death at Manitowoc of the Rev. Reinhold J. Reindl, which occurred last Friday evening at the home of his parents. Death was due to pleuro-pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at St. Boniface church, Manitowoc, at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Rhode of Green Bay will conduct the services.

The Rev. Father Reindl was well known in this locality because of having assisted the Rev. Fr. Steinbrecher at Kaukauna for about 15 months in 1916 and 1917. At the time of his death he was pastor of St. Joseph Catholic church of Kellersville.

Giant Eels

It is said there are eels no one can land. Some years ago a giant conger was caught in shallow water off the shores of England. It measured eight feet, eight inches in length, and weighed 14 pounds. Conger, half that size, have been known to bite a man's hand in two and to have driven their teeth through the blade on an axe.

In 1913 Kakananaka, the champion swimmer of Honolulu, was attacked by a giant eel which dragged him under water and held him there for nearly two minutes. He escaped at last, but at the cost of a finger from his right hand.

Eels attain an immense size in the rivers of New Zealand and have been known to attack bathers. In fact, many cases of drowning have been proven to be where eels have dragged the bathers beneath the surface of the water.

PACKAGE CONTAINING $18,000 IN LIBERTY BONDS DISAPPEARS

DETECTIVES TRYING TO SOLVE MYSTERY OF DISAPPEARANCE OF SECURITIES LAST DECEMBER

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—The mysterious disappearance of a package containing $18,000 worth of Liberty bond coupons, consigned by the First National bank of Madison to the First National bank of Chicago, Dec. 17, is no nearer solution today than when it was first discovered.

Officials of the bank and postoffice refuse to discuss the matter since the first announcement of the loss was made late Saturday afternoon, other than the statement of President J. H. Coe, of the bank, that the package sent out from his bank on Dec. 17 had not been received by the Chicago bank, but that the loss is fully covered by insurance.

Officials of the bank refuse to state just when the discovery of the loss was made but it has been learned that operatives of the Pinkerton Detective agency have been in Madison working on the case for over a week. It is said they have learned the following facts on which they are now working:

Four packages were prepared for mailing on Dec. 17, one of which was the one addressed to the First National bank of Chicago.

All packages of money, bonds, securities, etc., are supposed to be sent from the bank by registered mail.

Mailing clerks in the postoffice have been instructed to watch for valuable packages in the ordinary mail and when one is found from any bank that is not registered it is promptly turned over to the registry department. Such packages have been discovered in the past.

The bank is said to have changed messengers about the time the packages were sent out and neither messenger remembers to have taken them to the postoffice.

There is said to be no record at the local postoffice that the packages were registered, nor were any of them noticed in the ordinary mail.

It is said the bank officials are positive the package was lost, not stolen, after it left the bank, and are confident it reached the postoffice.

Postal authorities are said to believe the package was dropped on the street between the bank and the postoffice.

Much of the snow which had collected in the gutters has been hauled away.

The public announcement of the loss was a disappointment to the bank officials Saturday. The bank loses nothing, being fully covered by insurance, but the officials were co-operating with the postal inspectors and detectives connected by the insurance company, and believed if the lost package had been found that it would eventually be recovered if the matter was not made public especially if any effort was ever made to collect on the coupons, the numbers of the coupons having been reported to all National Banks.

RACINE COUNTY LETS BID FOR GOOD ROADS

Racine.—The Racine county highway committee this morning awarded the contract for the laying of four miles of concrete roadway on what is known as the Twelfth street road between this city and Corliss. The cost of the work will be approximately $30,000 per mile.

Under the state comprehensive good roads plan, Racine is the first county to make an award for the carrying out of such work, other counties having abandoned like projects because of the high cost involved.

DEATH HAUNTS HOME OF MANITOWOC FAMILY

Manitowoc.—For the second time within a few hours death has invaded the Scherer home on South Eleventh street. Mrs. Henry Scherer having died of pneumonia, shortly after Mrs. John Scherer was killed by falling down stairs. Mrs. Scherer was 81 years old. She was born in Germany and came to this country when 16 years old. She is the last member of a large family and is survived by three children.

HEAVY SNOWFALL HAS PART IN HIGH PRICE

Ashland.—The heavy snowfall in Wisconsin is playing an important part in boosting the price of potatoes and other farm commodities, according to local dealers. Not in years has the cold been continuously as intense as this winter. Not in years has there been such a snow fall. In many parts of northern Wisconsin the road beds have been filled with snow to a depth of four to five feet. As a consequence no potatoes have been brought in to the cities for some weeks. The price of potatoes continues to rise and this is more or less true of butter and eggs and other farm products. It is expected that when potatoes and other farm products begin to flood the markets in April the prices will be forced down at once. At present they are rising.

PHYTHIANS OBSERVE 56 ANNIVERSARY

LOCAL LODGE CONSIDERING PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION FEBRUARY 19

The Knights of Pythias of the country will celebrate their fifty-sixth anniversary, Thursday, Feb. 19. The local lodge has not yet prepared its program, but has the matter under consideration. The Wisconsin Lodge at Milwaukee will throw open its doors to the public and Judge A. C. Backus will be the principal speaker.

The Knights of Pythias came into being Feb. 19, 1864, as the result of an unusually severe Michigan winter. Justus R. Rathbone, the founder, was a school teacher at Copper Harbor, Mich., and because the students were snowbound, he gave them their evenings with a series of amateur plays.

Among the productions was Damon and Pythias and the play so impressed the school master that he conceived the idea of a fraternal organization founded on the friendship of the two characters.

SCHOOL CHILDREN USE 1,500 QUARTS OF MILK

Neenah.—Fifteen hundred quarts of milk were consumed by school children during the month of January, according to the monthly report of the school nurse. Milk is now being given to underfed children in the lower grades as a part of the active health supervision of school children which is being developed here.

New Daylight Saving Plan

Many men who have achieved much have the habit of working while others sleep. John H. Patterson, the dynamic head of the National Cash Register company, for many years never went to bed without pad and pencil at his bedside, and rarely did morning find the pad empty. He got up at 5 o'clock and had one day's work done by noon. Incidentally, the move which led Julius Rosenwald, head of Sears, Roebuck & Company, to success and wealth, came to him and was decided upon in the middle of the night, many years ago. The idea which won E. C. Simmons, founder of the Simmons Hardware company, fame and fortune, also came to him between midnight and dawn—Forbes Magazine.

Encourage Infection

Dr. Eric Pritchard suggests, in The Practitioner (London), that eating too much carbohydrate material makes persons susceptible to infectious diseases. This is important to mothers of young children, as it means that they should restrict the quantity of starchy and sugary foods that their offspring eat.
